This Week's Program: Club Assembly

Today's program is about our upcoming events and service project but have you ever considered being more involved in planning those events. Our club plans its work through our standing subcommittees listed below. Your input as a member of a committee or participation in one of the events is a great way to serve your club and your community. It's also a great way to get to know your fellow members better. Please let one of our Committee chairs if you are interested in serving on their committee.

Membership

This committee develops and implements a comprehensive plan for the recruitment and retention of members.

Club Communications

This committee develops and implements plans to provide information about Rotary and promotes the club's service projects and activities to club members and the public.

Club Administration

This committee conducts activities associated with the effective operation of the club, including promoting fellowship and fundraising.

Service Projects

This committee develops and implements projects that address local needs and works with our community to bring lasting improvements.

The Rotary Foundation

This committee develops and implements plans to support The Rotary Foundation through both financial contributions and program participation.

Vocational Service

This committee (or subcommittee) develops and implements vocational programs.

International Service

This committee (or subcommittee) develops and implements humanitarian projects around the globe that promote world understanding and peace.

Youth Service

This committee (or subcommittee) Recognizes the positive change implemented by youth and young adults through leadership development activities, involvement in community and international service projects, and exchange programs that enrich and foster world peace and cultural understanding.

Family Action

This committee (or subcommittee) recognizes the importance of family inclusion in club activities and service projects and provides an avenue for members to actively participate in and/or coordinate family-oriented service projects.

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL NEWS:

ROTARY MEMBER TAKES FUNDRAISING TO NEW HEIGHTS -- THE SUMMIT OF MOUNT EVEREST

Despite his longstanding interest in polio eradication, polio was not on Joe Pratt's mind as he prepared for a mid-April 2012 climb of Mount Everest, the highest mountain on earth. But that changed in late 2011, when the resident of Nottingham, New Hampshire, USA, participated in a polio immunization project in Pakistan with fellow Rotary member Steve Puderbaugh.

ROTARIAN - ETHICS: SACKING THE SUPER BOWL
ONE MAN'S DECISION TO GIVE FOOTBALL A PERMANENT TIME OUT.

Two summers ago, in the bleary days after the birth of my third child, I received a phone call from my older brother Dave in California. “Something’s happened to mom,” he said. Dave is a doctor. His approach to medical concerns is calm and clinical. He sounded neither. He informed me that our mom had fallen and was experiencing “some sort of episode.”

“What does that mean?” I said.

“I’m not sure. Her legs just stopped working. And she doesn’t seem aware of where she is.” Dave paused. “You’d better get out here.”

I immediately booked a flight from my home in Boston to San Francisco. By the time I arrived, mom was in intensive care. Her face was deeply bruised from the fall. She stared in confusion at the IVs taped to her arms. “Something terrible is happening to me,” she whispered. Then she began to weep.

The closest we could get to an official diagnosis was a progressive dementia that had been masked for years, then triggered by the fall. In the space of a few days, mom had gone from working as a full-time psychiatrist to, it appeared, needing around-the-clock care.
