Today's speaker: Exchange student Tomi Katona

Tamas "Tomi" Katona arrived in Juneau about six weeks ago. He hails from Hungary, and lives a very active life full of music (he loves piano and guitar), movies, television (especially Breaking Bad), social media (videos on YouTube and Tumblr) and family (youngest cousin of many in his family). Katona will be here all year for us to learn more about him and he about us. That exchange continues today, as he speaks to the Club about himself and his experiences so far.

Brew Crew leads 2014 Brewfest to new heights

From left, David Cox, Ann Metcalfe and Andy Mills oversee the volunteer table at the second annual Brewfest, held Sept. 14 at the JACC. This year's Brewfest drew more people, had more brewers and featured more entertainment and food than last year's. Thanks to all the Rotarians who made the event an even bigger success in 2013.

Proud to be 100% Paul Harris Fellows

Members of the Rotary Club of Juneau pose at the Sept. 10 meeting with their banner celebrating the fact that 100 percent of its members are Paul Harris Fellows. The banner unveiling coincided with District Governor Sue Foley's visit. Paul Harris Fellows are recognized for contributing to the Annual Fund, PolioPlus or to certain Rotary Foundation grant programs. Members can also earn Fellow status if someone contributes or transfers a donation in that member's name.

Juneau Rotary celebrates New Generations with annual International Potluck

There may not be such a thing as a free lunch, but Sunday, there will be a free dinner.

Join us at 6 p.m. Sunday at the JACC when all three Juneau Rotary clubs, along with Rotaract and Interact, partner to celebrate New Generations Month at our annual International Potluck.

Bring your family and friends – especially anyone you know who may be interested in being an exchange student or hosting one at some point during the school year. Throughout the evening there'll be opportunity to meet all three clubs' current Inbounds, talk to Rebounds from previous years, and possibly interest a current high school student to apply for next year's exchange.

Now in its sixth year, the potluck began as a way to help showcase Rotary's youth oriented programs: Rotary Youth Exchange, Interact, Rotaract and the Rotary Youth Leadership Awards. We especially focus on Rotary Youth Exchange in order to recruit potential Outbounds for next year, as well as hosts for our current and future Inbounds.

Rotary believes exposure to new cultures and customs is a powerful way to promote global understanding and peace. Juneau Rotary clubs believe this begins with good food and fellowship!

For more information about this Sunday's potluck, Youth Exchange or any New Generations programs, contact Virginia Stonkus or Caitlyn McLaughlin.
