

Susan Marie Smith

2022 Peace Builder Award

Susan Marie Smith was a Simi Valley resident who was a devoted wife and mother of two, who worked for the Simi Valley Unified School district for 16 years at five of the local schools. She loved life, had a passion for students, and touched the entire community with her warmth and nurturing personality before she became the unfortunate victim during the Las Vegas shooting in 2017.

In memory of Susan Marie Smith, the Susan Marie Smith Peace Builder Award will recognize local youth in Simi Valley for outstanding commitment to social change. It is our hope that this award will change the focus away from violence and inspire students to speak out for peace and to work to end the hatred, ignorance, injustice, violence, and intolerance, by honoring courageous role models and leaders in Simi Valley. The recipient of this award will have shown a devotion to peace and justice, through their school, place of worship, or within the community. We hope this recognition will help young people in our community fulfill their potential to be the changemakers we need in this world.

Criteria for determining recipient of the Susan Marie Smith Peacebuilder Award are:

1. Must be a student in Simi Valley.
2. Consistency and Determination -All efforts were sustained over a time with continued intensity despite disappointments, frustrations or setbacks.
