The meeting was brought to order at 6:30. Joel told us that we have 90-100 pre-registrations for the Chris Bond Run. He is hopeful that the day of the event we will get a few more. The gifts are coming in but we still could use a few more. Tent set up is scheduled for Saturday at 9 am. Sunday, volunteers should be at the school no later than 8 am. 7:30 would be better to get everything set up. BBQ set up will be at 7 am on race day.

Darlynne told us that the Trumansburg Winterfest will be Friday, December 6th from 5-7. She would like to know how our club could be involved, if they wanted to. The club decided to talk about this in one of the upcoming meetings. They are also seeking crafters, so if you know of anyone who would like to set up for the event, let Darlynne know.

Frank told us of stickers you can get for your car that alert first responders as to medications you might be taking. Go to this web site for more information <http://www.nysheriffs.org/yellowdot>. It is free and you can order your yellow dots right on line.

We discussed the Election Day BBQ a little. This will be our next fund raiser.

Peggy told us that she has a new service; it is called "The Last Word". She writes obits for living people.

Liza told us that her English teacher invited her to meet her parents and she might be able to ride horses when she goes. It seems that she fights a lot with her mother when they SKYPE and right now she is not homesick and really enjoys being here. She wrote to her home Rotary club and told them how much she liked it and while writing she cried but not out of homesickness; it was because she is so thankful to be here and is really enjoying her stay.

Maria told us that everything is going great and she is on the cross country team. Next may she will be doing a solo at her recital and will let us know the time and place. She is very excited about the pumpkin fest and can't wait to help.

Meeting was adjourned at 7:45 pm.
