The meeting was brought to order at 6:38. We ate dinner in the regular room and then moved to the big dining hall for this week's presentation. Mike McGuire introduced the Trumansburg School Robotics Team. They told us how they built and got into the Robotics competition. Next they put on an interesting demonstration of how the robot works and what they will be doing at the regional competition in Rochester at RIT next week, March 27-29. There are 48 teams in the Region and Trumansburg is a new team competing. They told us that the minimum budget for building and competing is $13,000.

Meeting was adjourned at 8:20.

Some folks to the mountains for inspiration, some for rest; learned men write of the mountains, poets sing of them, artists paint them; the boy takes them in his stride. Why should he not? Were mountains made for his restless feet to climb? High though they be, his spirit is higher, they are his to triumph over.
