

News Both Fit and Unfit!

Guest Speaker

Josh Nytch of the Maloney Pipe Band gave us an interesting history of how his organization came to be, and explained the anatomy of a bagpipe. The music, or “drone” is comprised of only 9 notes. Josh also talked about his kilt and the rest of the requisite Bagpiping attire. The highlight was Josh's talented playing of “Scotland the Brave” to a delighted Rotary Club. And all this on Josh's Birthday!

Notably, Josh faced an unusually robust audience, still pumped from an incredible Golf Outing. Many thanks to Ted, Rob and Daisy! It took Teri two bells to quiet the crowd for the meeting.

Guests:

Colby Cordero brought his Dad.

Keven Webb...aren't you a member yet?

50/50:

Evidently not expecting to win, Siobhan took a near eternity to claim her $20.

Fine Master:

Rob Flanders stepped in to balance the Club budget, starting innocently with a buck for no pins/badges, and a few late fines. Golf fines ruled the day, with Ted Wolf taking honors for highest score, Robert for wearing orange(?) pants, George paying for interest in Rob's yellow pants, and Steve Day having messed pants (not yellow, mellow, like wine). Roy won women's closest to the pin. Hey, this is Afton, not Pinehurst. Colby Cordero had his allowance reduced for giving mortgage advice. Ed paid for a shirt he must have been given.

To our great surprise, Teri was super happy she is a doctor's Mom. Happy too, were Chris who got an interview, Rob with a graduating Nephew, Robert who won the golf, and Andy who went to Vegas and met Pete Rose and some pawn (I think he said pawn) stars. Richard is happy he is going to Korea and Japan with Ted. Kevin was happy to report his pushups for charity event raised $5000. Finally, Mark was happy Ted gave him a pin, and Mark also thanked yours truly for doing this month's Vigilant. My pleasure.
