

News Both Fit and Unfit!

Guest Speaker:

Alexis Savidge — United Way of Broome

United Way of Broome County has undergone a two year process of shifting to a Community Impact business model, which is a change in how we interact with our funded programs and with the community. The Community Impact business model is driven by our mission to lead sustainable improvements in community conditions by mobilizing the caring power of communities. United Way does this by bringing together organizations, people and resources to focus on critical issues with the goal of making progress through collaborative, coordinated efforts.
