The Lookout

Weekly Bulletin of The Rotary Club of Lindale

Welcome

Dr. David Rolston has a strong background in technology combined with extensive experience in business. Dave's technology expertise is focused on artificial intelligence (AI) and robotics, virtual reality, 3D graphics, and imagery. He has degrees in engineering and a PhD in AI.

Dave wrote one of the first best-selling books on AI in 1988. It was used as a standard textbook at universities around the world and was translated into several languages.

He has several decades of experience developing many different forms of AI as well as robotic and graphic artificial human characters. Dr. Rolston played key roles in creating several well-known products including Google Earth, the XBOX 360, and other game consoles. He has also worked on more than 300 movies and video games and managed the development of one of the first virtual reality systems.

Dave has been general manager of several large corporate divisions including a $1B division of Silicon Graphics and a $500M division of ATI (now AMD). In addition to these corporate roles Dave has been CEO of five early-stage AI and graphics companies. These companies worked in a variety of industries building many different hardware and software products for consumer, government, and enterprise applications.

Dave is currently CEO of a Silicon Valley company that is using AI to improve cardiac treatment and brain surgery. He is also chairman of an AI-based training company and chief technologist for a company that is using AI in broadcast television.

The beautiful East Texas trees and wildflowers are in bloom and, for some of us, so are our allergies! In our region, high counts of pollens like cedar, elm, oak, and ragweed are prevalent, and due to humidity, mold spores can make symptoms worse. It is very common for a person to develop a sinus infection on top of dealing with allergies, and those infections usually require prescription medications. Stay healthy!
