

The Four-Way Test

Of the things we think, say or do:

1. Is it the TRUTH
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Moore Happenings

Making a Difference Here & There

Bears Repeating

Some people find fault like there is a reward for it.

The price of success is much lower than the price of failure.

Your mate doesn't live by bread alone; he or she needs to be "battered up" from time to time.

Take time to be quiet!

You can disagree without being disagreeable.

You don't drown by falling in water; you only drown if you stay there.

All of the above quotes are from Zig Ziglar's "Little Book of Big Quotes."

UPCOMING MEETINGS

Be sure to ask a guest to attend a meeting during November!

This will be a great time to introduce prospective members to Rotary!

If you are in charge of a program for a meeting, please send the info no later than the Friday before that meeting to: Cathy@EstesAd.com

It's That Little Yellow Flag...

November 9, 2016

"There were some penalties we probably shouldn't have called that we did and some that we could have called that we didn't," he added, "but overall I think it went pretty well."

Quick, who said that? Just in case you don't know, it was the gentleman we're going to hear from today,

Derick Bowers,

who officiated Super Bowl XLIII!

How cool is this? For everybody who is a fan, this is great. For everybody else, it's pretty darn cool, too!

Derick was the Head Linesman for this Superbowl, and I'm sure that there are many of you in the room who will know exactly what that means!

The rest of us are excited to hear about Derick's experience with this talented group who did the officiating. Did you know the seven officials for this game had a collective total of 55 years of NFL officiating experience? The highest-rated officials at each position with the appropriate experience earn the right to work the Super Bowl as long as they have a minimum of five years of NFL experience and previous playoff assignments.

This should be interesting!

Welcome, Derick!

Just Interesting!

Early in the Revolutionary War, Washington sent one of his officers to requisition horses from the local landowners. Calling at an old country mansion, the officer was received by the elderly mistress of the house. "Madam, I have come to claim your horses in the name of the government," he began. "On whose orders?" demanded the woman sternly. "On the orders of General George Washington, commander in chief of the American army," replied the officer. The old lady smiled. "You go back and tell General George Washington that his mother says he cannot have her horses," she said.

As he campaigned by bus in the summer of 1976, Carter told reporters that they had in fact treated him pretty well. "Compared to what?" they asked. "To the way you treated Nixon," he said.
