

January 6, 2017

Dear Education Supporter:

Dean Martin, Louis Armstrong, and Michael Jackson are coming together for one night only to benefit the Education Services Committee! This fun-filled evening of music and laughter will be held at the Yellow Rose Theater on February 23, 2017, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and features a variety show with songs that span the decades. In addition to wonderful entertainment there will be chances to win rockin' prizes. Proceeds from the night's event will benefit the projects of the Moore Rotary Club's Education Services Committee.

The Moore Rotary Club's Education Services Committee supports Moore Public Schools through funding the Childhood Hunger Program (the elementary school backpack program and two food pantries) and Excellence in Education (the Teacher and Patron of the Year reception and awards program).

Individual tickets and tables are available for the event (tables seat eight). Table sponsors will receive their name in the program, at the table, and promoted as an event sponsor via Facebook. Please see the enclosed chart for seating locations.

- Producer for $100 / $800
 - Front and center seat at the Yellow Rose for all the rockin' entertainment
- Director for $75 / $600
 - Your seat will be just one row from the velvet curtain at the Yellow Rose
- Actor for $50 / $400
 - Your seat will allow you to work the room and enjoy the ambiance of the theater

Make sure to mark February 23 on your calendar for our Rockin' for Education event! Your contribution is tax-deductible, and will support the students and teachers of the Moore Public Schools. Registration form and payment must be received by February 16 to reserve your seat. Email cjmilum@sbcglobal.net for more information.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Janie Milum".

Janie Milum, Chair
Moore Rotary Club
Education Services Committee

Enclosure