We had four guests with us this week. Bill Small and Scott Carlyle (from the Portland club), Tom Antonio (a friend of Bob Lavoisier's), Andy Ellis (prospective member here with Jack Roberts. Welcome to all!

Dave Bagdasarian conducted this week's raffle a 50/50 Bob Flynn was the winner.

Mike McGovern led us in song with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" to honor Jack Roberts as he leaves the office of president.

Happy dollars this week included :

- Paul Butler for Jack's compliment to Gail's work on the rescue team in the bulletin last week.
- Dan Davidson for the boards decision to suggest that coat and tie etiquette be waived for the summer meetings and members come casually dressed if they choose.
- Tony Wagner complimenting Jack Roberts on a very good year as President of the club.

Club Announcements :

Jack Roberts introduced Debbie Manning from the Starlight Foundation of Maine. Debbie gave us feedback on the donation of $500 dollars we made to the foundation several weeks back. The money was used for one of the terminally ill children that the foundation grants wishes to. A child in South Portland with a degenerative form of muscular dystrophy asked for a Nintendo game. The money was used to get him a television with remote control and the Nintendo. He was ecstatic! Debbie brought some pictures of the boy enjoying his game.

Jack Roberts formalized Dan's comment that the board has suggested we waive the coat and tie formality for the summer.

Jack read a letter of resignation from the club from Rene Burnett. The board accepted the letter with regrets.

Mike McGovern announced that we will man the fried dough booth at the Deering Oaks festival on July 27th and 29th (the Portland Players will have it the 28th). A sign up sheet was circulated for people to put in some time to help out.

Bob Flynn gave an informal report on the Schooner Fare concert. It cost approximately $1900 to put the concert on and receipts to date are about $3700 (10 members have yet to return ticket money). Bob hopes that we will be giving about $2000 dollars to special olympics once the books are balanced.

Joe Conroy submitted the board's budget recommendation for raising dues to $130 for approval. Tony Wagner motioned to accept it and Dan Davidson seconded the motion. All members present approved the motion unanimously.
