New Generations Month – September is New Generations Month and so it was fitting that our New Generations Committee had its organizational meeting this week. The committee consists of:

Jim Russell – chair
Tony Wagner & Ellie Speh – CE Interact Liaisons
Michele Danois & Kirk Henriksen – SP Interact Liaisons
Mike Tranfaglia – Scholarships & RYLA
Adrienne Murphy – Student visits
Dan Davidson – Youth Literacy

Anyone else interested in participating, please contact Jim Russell. Look for more articles in the month ahead about New Generations.

Theater Night – The club will have a Theater Night at Portland Players on Thursday, September 20. The musical “Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat” great music by Andrew Lloyd Webber and rumor has it that this is a great show. Club members are asked to sell 4 tickets each (tickets are $20 each); see Kathy Cotter or Jason Seymour if you haven’t picked up your tickets. Kathy is also circulating a volunteer sign-up sheet for tasks the night of the show.

Children’s Garden Design – Our recent contribution to the Fort Williams Arboretum is for the design of the Children’s Garden. Designs will be on display September 4 -7 at the main branch of Key Bank at Canal Plaza.

Raffle – Tonight's raffle prize, 4 tickets to the Sea Dogs Field of Dreams game, donated by Brian Murphy (who else!), was won by Adrienne Murphy, who can’t use them – the re-raffle winner was Tom Meyers.

Harry Ruggles, Chapter 2 – Tom Meyers led us in a re-enactment of the introduction of singing into Rotary meetings (see last week’s bulletin for Chapter 1). We all donned handlebar mustaches and did our best imitation of a barbershop quartet singing “Let Me Call You Sweetheart.” Adrienne, who has the song duty next week, has a really tough act to follow!!

Program – Heather Davis, Executive Director of The Telling Room, informed us about this relatively new non-profit created in 2004 by three authors. The program, which helps students foster their writing skills, has grown to ten staff and over 200 volunteers. Its programs consist of field trips, a workshop series, in-school residency programs, summer camp programs, and a 9-month Young Writers and Leaders program for high-achieving students whose second language is English. She showed us a very impressive clip of a film these students had made featuring Nadya and Ali. President Bob was so impressed that he offered to buy some of the students’ published books to be used as raffle gifts when the raffle gift doesn’t materialize.
