Happy Birthday to:

Charlie Miller (5/8)

John Hewitt (5/9)

Congratulations to Lauren Phillips for being the 7th fastest Maine woman to finish the Boston Marathon!

Geography Lesson: - Correction - last week I reported that the Anderson twins – Sharon and Bill – were both from Missouri. Actually they’re both from the OZARKS – Sharon from Missouri and Bill from Arkansas.

Raffle – Elise won a gift certificate donated by Cyndie Santos to – where else! – Tim Horton’s

Improvise! – Our speaker this week (who filled in on short notice – thank you!) was David LaGraffe, who teaches improvisation. He originally got interested in improvisation when he used it teaching acting classes, and eventually found that he liked it better than working from a script. He runs “Lights Up Improv” (www.lightsupimprov.com) through which he teaches improvisation to children & adults. He is also a founder of Portland Playback Theater Company, in which an audience member tells a story and the theater company acts it out. You can catch them every first Friday at 7:30 at CTN (next to MECA on Congress Street). He told us that improvisation is all about being vulnerable and that “you can’t get to 2nd base with your foot still on 1st base!”
