17th President 1928-1929

L. "Fred" Hathcock, 1867-1959; classification, Physician, became a Rotarian in 1915 and was 61 years of age when president. Born in Beaver Valley in Anderson County, he attended school at Tennessee Colony, and then to the University of Pennsylvania Medical School. During his years of medical practice here in Palestine, he would frequently return to the East for additional study of medical advances, and he brought that knowledge back to Anderson County.

Always in the forefront of medical technology, he went from candles to electricity to gramaphones to telephones to radios to televisions. He performed the first appendectomy in Anderson county (using a kitchen table). He had the first x-ray machine and his children were allowed to "see" their own hearts with a fluoroscope He also had one of the first automobiles in Palestine, and was a pioneer in using it to visit outlying patients. He provided medical care in the county for over 50 years spanning both world wars.

Later, he added a partner–newly arrived physician, Fred Felder (and future Rotary President). Dr. Hathcock was an ardent, early, genealogist; in 1940, he made an auto trip through the Northeast in search of information on his ancestors. His daughter, Louise, taught for many years at SFA State Teachers College.
