Rotarian Happenings

Making a difference in our community, or in communities around the world.

~ We use our knowledge of local issues to identify areas of need, then apply our expertise and diverse perspectives to the problem. Rotary members are at work in our community right now feeding the hungry, tutoring children, maintaining parks, and more.

Partners for clean water

Water for Africa and Rotary Club of Sunyani Central, Ghana

When the children of Ghana shout, "Hey, water! Water!" Michael Anyekase thinks of Rotary International. Anyekase works for Water for Africa, which partnered with Rotary to provide more than 100 villages in Ghana with clean water through installation of equipment and hygiene training.

More than 85 percent of Ghanaians now have

Humans as a whole need to know things about one another... Things that are sad and things that are happy. A recent death in the community made many aware that we would like to know our fellow rotarians better. Things like when children are born, grandchildren are born, kids graduate, get married, GET A JOB!!, when a Rotarian or a Rotarian spouse gets a promotion, gets a new job, is recognized by their professional association, etc - all the things that normally happen to people. We can be a closer, more cohesive unit, if we know each other on a more personal level. These are things that could be shared through Roto-Views if known in advance. Let's get our "news" to Jake so that it can be shared weekly in our Roto-View. Email such events to jmienk@palestineherald.com for placement.

Harvesting for hunger

Rotary First Harvest, a program of Rotary District 5030, Seattle, Washington

You won't find fancy cocktails or colorful streamers at these parties. But Rotary members in the Seattle area still have a good time at Rotary First Harvest work parties, where they repackage surplus produce for distribution to the hungry. "The work is rewarding and great fun," says David Schooler, Rotary member and president of Rotary First Harvest. The organization collaborates with farmers, truckers, volunteers, and food banks to move food that might otherwise go to waste to food banks and meal programs for those in need.

Schooler and around 100 Rotary members and friends gather at a warehouse twice a month to break down 1,000-pound bins of food into smaller boxes or serving bags. They also volunteer on farms to gather fresh fruits and vegetables that aren't economically viable for farmers to harvest. In one season, Rotary

First Harvest coordinated 1,500 volunteers and provided 3 million family meals.

"Every Rotary project anywhere in the world always started with one person who had an idea," says executive director David Bobanick. "They were able to grow and develop that idea by getting other Rotarians engaged and using that powerful network of Rotary to really change the world."

Taking on some of the world's most pressing challenges.

Rotary members unite at home and across the globe to put our experience and knowledge to work access to clean water, far surpassing the 2015 goals set by the United Nations. Rotary, with its abundant resources and committed global membership, has provided more sources of drinking water in Ghana than any other NGO, Anyekase says.

Samuel Obour, a Rotary leader in Ghana, helped spearhead some projects, and continues to leverage Rotary's proven and highly-successful framework to install latrines and washing stations at schools and markets. After all, Rotary's partnership doesn't end, but rather, gets stronger with time.

Now children don't have to wake up at 4 a.m. to fetch water from miles away. They can go to school.

"Children can spend more time being children," says Obour. "Families can spend more time being families. And life can take on a new kind of normalcy."

Swing Low Sweet Chariot

Swing low, sweet chariot,
Comin' for to carry me home;
Swing low, sweet chariot,
Comin' for to carry me home.

I looked over Jordan,
And WHAT did I see,
Comin' for to carry me home,
A band of angels comin' after me,
Comin' for to carry me home.
