You're a Grand Old Flag

You're a grand old flag,
 You're a high flying flag
 And forever in peace may you wave.
 You're the emblem of
 The land I love.
 The home of the free and the brave.
 Ev'ry heart beats true
 'neath the Red, White and Blue,
 Where there's never a boast or brag.
 Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
 Keep your eye on the grand old flag.

Stephen Gonzalez spoke to Rotarians about El Camino Real de Los Tejas, the National Historic Trail, during last week's luncheon meeting.

The article at right was featured in the September 2016 issue of the Scientific American magazine. It was a reprint of the original article that was printed in 1966.

1966 Artificial Intelligence

"In order for a program to improve itself substantially it would have to have at least a rudimentary understanding of its own problem-solving process and some ability to recognize an improvement when it found one. There is no inherent reason why this should be impossible for a machine. Given a model of its own workings, it could use its problem-solving power to work on the problem of self-improvement. The present programs are not quite smart enough for this purpose; they can only deal with the improvement of programs much simpler than themselves. Once we have devised programs with a genuine capacity for self-improvement a rapid evolutionary process will begin.... Whether or not we could retain some sort of control of the machines, assuming that we would want to, the nature of our activities and aspirations would be changed utterly by the presence on earth of intellectually superior beings. —Marvin L. Minsky"

Scourge of Polio

"The epidemic of infantile paralysis, or poliomyelitis, now ravaging the State and City of New York and extending over a great part of the United States is the most serious in medical history. On September 1st the number of victims in New York State alone had reached 10,000, while the largest reported in any previous epidemic was 3,840. This was in Sweden in the year 1911. This cruel disease has only lately attracted the attention of medical science. It must, of course, have existed from the earliest times; but it was not described until 1841 when eleven cases occurred in Louisiana. During the last thirty years it has rapidly gained ground, claiming ever larger and larger numbers of helpless children and not a few adults as well, until now it is one of the most dreaded of all diseases. In the United States we have had fourteen carefully described epidemics, beginning with that of Vermont in 1894."

1916 Motion Pictures

"The audience is tense with excitement as the hero in the film struggles frantically with the control apparatus of a submarine that is fast sinking to the ocean bottom. Several months ago the scene in question was acted, not, as might be supposed, in the interior of a..."
