Kurt's Korner

By Kurt Bartley

To be a part of something larger, bigger than ourselves, affecting many people, making a difference. This is what we Rotarians are all about. Service above self. Once again, we were part of something bigger as we joined many people cleaning up Fish Creek trail last Saturday. We joined in this effort with The Mission Continues, the group of vets who continue to make a difference in the community. We joined families, Rotarians from other clubs, churches and other groups in the area, to focus on the goal of cleaning the trails in the park so we can continue to enjoy God's beauty. This benefits the myriads of people who enjoy the walking and biking trails of Fish Creek. This benefits us in knowing we are part of something bigger.

Our next opportunity on this 60-Day Sprint for Service is to "Help Stock Up the Shelter." Bring needed items for Arlington Life Shelter to the Feb. 10 and 17 Rotary meetings. Choose from the following items as requested by the Shelter: fruit cups, applesauce cups, cutlery packets with salt/pepper/napkin, 20 oz. large bowls, 12 oz. drinking cups, coffee cups, salad plates, small bowls, large bowls, Cheez-its, Peanut Butter crackers, mayo packets, and 55-gal. trash bags.

Let's keep the pace!

Kurt,

President 2021-22

to both Chiefs, asking what has been the most challenging over the last two years? Chief Crowson started, by saying the last two years has been like nothing they have had seen before, having to completely reassess and as of a few weeks ago Arlington Fire Department had administered 263,000 vaccinations. Chief Jones indicated that when he came to Arlington during the height of the pandemic it was difficult to build relationships and engage the community via zoom and online meetings. And after the George Floyd case the landscape of policing changed. Prompting Arlington Officers to engage in the community, making themselves available for questions by the citizens.

In honor of today's program, President Kurt presented a book to Chief Crowson & Chief Jones that will be given to Webb Elementary on their behalf.
