Kurt's Korner

By Kurt Bartley

This past week we experienced something we will likely experience again – one of our attendees testing positive for COVID. I believe it is good to be reminded of what the CDC suggests when you think you have been exposed:

Watch for Symptoms

"People with COVID-19 have had a wide range of symptoms reported – ranging from mild symptoms to severe illness. Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure to the virus. Anyone can have mild to severe symptoms. People with these symptoms may have COVID-19:

Fever or chills – Cough – Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing – Fatigue – Muscle or body aches – Headache – New loss of taste or smell – Sore throat – Congestion or runny nose – Nausea or vomiting – Diarrhea

This list does not include all possible symptoms. CDC will continue to update this list as we learn more about COVID-19. Older adults and people who have severe underlying medical conditions like heart or lung disease or diabetes seem to be at higher risk for developing more serious complications from COVID-19 illness."

The biggest renovation in Theatre Arlington's 48-year history is underway. Through the renovations, they are hopeful that these renovations will help to elevate production values, enhance the patron experience, broaden the audiences, improve education/training abilities while taking the theatre into the future as the anchor in the Arlington Cultural Arts District.

Steven Morris, Executive Producer of Theatre Arlington gives an entertaining program about the physical renovations and entertainment upgrades at the theater.

The theatre will have fewer seats but larger more comfortable seating for the patrons. The actors will enjoy brand new dressing rooms. The stage will have a turntable which is great for improving the sets for shows with expanded wing space. The theatre will also have new sound and lighting equipment. Who doesn't love the new technology that leads to better shows?

Education and outreach are a major focus at the theatre as Theatre Arlington works with four title one schools in Arlington in addition to homeless and transitional youth. These programs help build students' self-esteem and confidence. Theatre Arlington looks forward to working with more students in the future.
