

Darl J. Andersen

Personal Bio.--August, 2017

Darl J. Andersen was born and raised in Mesa, Arizona. He graduated from Westwood High School, attended Brigham Young University and Arizona State University and then served a 27 month mission for his church in Chile, S.A.

Darl holds two Bachelor degrees from Arizona State University--one in Real Estate and the other in Accounting. After receiving his first degree, Darl worked for the Valley National Bank in retail operations and in real estate. After receiving his second degree, he joined the international CPA firm of Ernst & Ernst, where he worked in the audit and tax departments and was assigned to the Bashas' account from 1973 to 1977. During that time period, he also taught evening accounting courses at Mesa Community College. Darl was a member of the Arizona Society of Certified Public Accountants from 1974 to 2003.

Darl began his career with Bashas' in 1977 as Corporate Controller. Shortly thereafter, he was promoted to Senior Vice President of Administration & Chief Financial Officer. After serving more than 25 years with the company, he retired in 2003 to serve as Mission President for his church in Chile, S.A.

In 2009, Darl returned to Bashas' as Chief Restructuring Officer to assist with the Company's bankruptcy. From 2009 to 2014, he served as the President and C.E.O. for Bashas' and was responsible for overseeing the operations of 125 Bashas', Food City and AJ's grocery stores and their 8,000 employees. From 2014 to 2017, Darl was called to serve full-time in the presidency of the newly constructed L.D.S. Gilbert Temple.

Darl is also the founder of Andersen Capital Partners which manages family real estate holdings and provides private lending to real estate developers. He currently advises the company in a strategic capacity.

Darl has been involved in numerous civic and service organizations. He was President of the Mesa West Rotary Club, President of the Retail Executives of Arizona, and President of the Mesa Ecumenical Clergy Association. He served as a Board Member for the City of Mesa's Board of Adjustments, the City's Planning and Zoning Board, the YMCA Board, the MARC School Board and as Board Member for the National Conference of Christian and Jews. In the Food Industry, Darl served on the Boards of the Arizona Food Marketing Alliance, the Western Association of Food Chains and the Food Marketing Institute.

For his church, Darl served in numerous capacities including Bishop and a member of Stake Presidencies for many years.

Darl and his wife, Kaye, live in Chandler and enjoy spending time with their 9 children and 39 grandchildren who all live in the East Valley.
