High Point Madrigal Singers

Editor: Carolyn Ottenbreit

This Week: Representatives of the Kittatinny InterAct Club will attend lunch. In addition, our representatives to RYLA (Rotary Youth Leaders Academy) will discuss their experiences at the event.

Last Week. Alden Welch introduced Kevin Daley, Director of Planned Giving at Bristol Glen, and Stacey Wilbur, Executive Director. Kevin talked about the growing need for long term care, driven by demographics. 10,000 individuals will turn 65 each day for the next 25 years. Stacey talked about how care models have evolved over time, with the current goal “person centered care.” Person centered care allows the client to make choices about how he lives – when he sleeps, what activities he would like to pursue, etc..In response to questions, Stacey said that the average stay at Bristol Glen is 8 years.

Guests: Marcy Turkington and Bob Ford. Jerry Nechamkin welcomed our guests.

the RoterAct Induction ceremony next week.

Bud Luthman gave an update on the progress of obtaining a Global Grant. The Rotary Club that we had hoped to partner with in Ethiopia no longer exists, so the project has been deferred to next year. Bud still hopes to find funding and support for a portable sonogram machine costing $15,000-$18,000 to provide traveling obstetric support for a nurse in Ethiopia.

Jim Porter announced that the Gift of Life raffle is underway. Raffle tickets are $10 and the winner will receive Superbowl tickets. Since the game is local this year, airfare and hotel are not included.

Natalie Gooding announced that her husband, who works at Picatinny Arsenal, will be working on Toys for Tots. She would like to get Newton Rotary to be involved in the effort, perhaps by planning a donation day which would coincide with one of the holiday madrigal performances.

Jerry Nechamkin will bring signup sheets for the Pancake Breakfast to our next meeting.

Barbara Miller is happy to report that our exchange student in Belgium, Molly, is thriving. She reports that she gave a presentation to the local Rotary Club, in French, and was understood!

Happy $:

Carl Lazzaro used his happy $ to ward against the danger of fire in the home. Carl has responded to four fires in the last 48 hours, several started by candles and cigarettes. Be careful, folks.

50/50: Joy Giuliano won $13, but left $259 in the pot.
