TODAY'S PROGRAM

Program Chair of the Day: Cub Amos

Daniel Bradley, Commanding Officer Naval Air Station Memorial Day Program

Commander Daniel P. Bradley, a native of Tucson, Arizona, graduated from the University of Arizona in 2005 with a degree in Engineering Management, and was designated a naval aviator in 2007.

Following Fleet Replacement Squadron training in the P-3C, CDR Bradley joined Patrol Squadron Eight in Brunswick, Maine, in 2008. During his tour with the Fighting Tigers, he accumulated over 1100 hours, completed two deployment cycles to the Fifth and Seventh Fleet areas of responsibility, and qualified as a Mission Commander and Instructor Pilot.

In 2011, CDR Bradley reported to Training Squadron 31 in Corpus Christi, Texas, where he instructed students in all phases of multi-engine flight in the extraordinary T-44A/C Pegasus. He also served as the Operations Department Head and oversaw the training of international military students from four partner nations.

CDR Bradley reported to Norfolk, Virginia, in 2014 to serve as a Catapult and Arresting Gear Officer aboard the USS Theodore Roosevelt (CVN-71). There, he deployed to the Fifth Fleet area of responsibility, while also serving as the Hangar Deck Division Officer.

In 2015, he transitioned to Full Time Support, and proceeded to fly more than 700 hours in the mighty C-20G during his tour aboard Fleet Logistics Support Squadron 51 in Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii. During his tour he has served as the Administration Officer, Operations Officer, and also graduated from Arizona State University with a Masters in Business Administration.

CDR Bradley most recently served as the Deputy Executive Assistant to the Chief of Navy Reserve from 2018-2021 at the Pentagon, in Washington, D.C. He reported to Fleet Logistics Support Squadron Five Nine (VR-59) in October 2021 as the Executive Officer, and became the Commanding Officer in February 2022. He is married to Mille Bradley, and they are graced with two children, William, and Emma.

Beam Signing at Bonton Farms

The final beam was put in place for the new Health and Wellness Center at Bonton Farm. PP Karen Farris and PP Fred Brown represented RCPC and were among those who signed the beam. The building will be completed by 2025.

The RCPC Foundation's Bonton Fund will be making a major contribution once the building is finished.

The last beam is put in place. Signing the beam is the next landmark in completing the building.

LAST WEEK

Presiding: Jeff Sheehan
 Invocation/ Pledge: Barbara Marcum
 Marketplace Advertiser: Kathy Wall
 Photographer: John Brown
 Chair of the Day: Eric Heitkamp
 Speaker: Lesley McCaslin, Bally Sports Reporter
 Program: Life on the Sidelines with the Texas Rangers and Dallas Mavericks – A Reporter's Perspective

The meeting was called to order by President Jeff Sheehan. Barbara Marcum leading the invocation, Pledge and National Anthem.

The Raffle stands at $1504 but no one has won the pot yet.

Several guests were introduced.

As the MarketPlace Advertiser, Kathy Wall and her team had an informative video about their State Farm Insurance Agency and their excellent client care.

Jeff Brady impressed upon us to Ask and Bring a friend to Rotary. The life of the club depends on increasing our membership. Last year we lost more members than we added.

Richard Stanford reminded any one interested in Legacy of Leadership to attend the alumni event Thursday, May 23 at the Park Towers on Turtle Creek. Please arrive at 6:30 for refreshments but let Richard know if you are coming by May 20.

Eric Heitkamp introduced our speaker Lesley McCaslin, Bally Sports Reporter: "Life on the Sidelines with the Texas Rangers and Dallas Mavericks." Lesley explained how she got into broadcast journalism. After graduation, she worked in Abilene, Texas to learn the trade then Austin for four years but her big break was at being the key sideline journalist for seven years in Oklahoma City while the Thunder Basketball team was in its heyday. She earned the trust of the players and was included in that huge sports family. She was living in Dallas and had to be on the road while raising three children.

Please remember

Please let us know your joys and concerns.

with many thanks to Mary Bishop for these Notes

Her family and friends and a nanny have played a key part in her success and sanity.

It is hard to get people to open up especially when the team is having a rocky year. The fans are disappointed when their team is losing, and it is hard to report the issues honestly and respectfully.

Moving into the Dallas market with Rangers was a dream job and watching Chris Young, his staff and the players win the World Series last year was incredible. They should be in a good position to repeat this accomplishment this year. It was like lightning in a bottle. Baseball is a long season with playing every single day and away from your family so much. The players have great character and care for each other, and have an amazing work ethic. The talent on the Rangers team is incredible.

Basketball players are athletes with supernatural skills and talent. They are your family and know the ups and downs. They have each other's back. The Mavs have struggled this year with injuries, and this is so hard on the team but the players want to play through thick and thin.

Adding to her busy life and during the slow time of the year, Lesley works part time at Benchmark Title. She does get tired but loves her work. She wants to be relatable to her teams and clients, having their best interest at heart.

Things are changing. TV is weird and things are going to streaming. Teams are funded by the networks and sports news commentators are feeling the instability. Amazon Prime will be playing a huge role in who broadcasts the games. Also up in the air, what will the new part owners of the Mavericks do. Will a new sports complex be built and gam-bling added to the Texas Sports venues? All this is To Be Determined, but the price of tickets is going up.

Next week, Cub Amos is bringing us a special Memorial Day program, with Commander Daniel Bradley.

THOUGHTS ON...

Memories

Your world is made of your memories, and your memories are given to you by your world. The whispering voice of happenstance is always in our ears. "This is the world. This is the way things are. Look. Pay attention. Remember." ~ Gordon Atkinson

We inherit from our ancestors gifts so often taken for granted... Each of us contains within... this inheritance of soul. We are links between the ages, containing past and present expectations, sacred memories and future promise. ~ Edward Sellner

Memories can be sad, but sometimes they can also save you.

~ Takayuki Ikkaku et. al.

Creditors have better memories than debtors. ~ Benjamin Franklin

Memories of our lives, of our works and our deeds will continue in others. ~ Rosa Parks

God gave us our memories so that we might have roses in December.

~ James M. Barrie

So live that your memories will be part of your happiness.

FAMILY OF ROTARY

Thank You from Marshall Weaver

This Donation (to the RC of PC Foundation) is overwhelmingly thoughtful of all of you. I can't begin to express the gratitude I have for those that initiated this, as well as our Club at large.

My mother certainly did have a very full and incredible life and created an incredible amount of friends throughout. At her incredibly advanced age, almost all of her earlier friends passed on way before her. Leaving her to make a whole lot of new friends of my age group to my children's age.

HE WHO LAUGHS, LASTS

The HMO account manager noticed that nearly every bill from a certain pediatrician's office included the line item "Behavior modification re-enforcers". Alarmed that the pediatrician was engaging in some unapproved, experimental psychological treatment or insurance fraud, she called the physician's office to inquire. "What on earth are behavior modification re-enforcers?" "Lollipops," was the reply.
