TODAY'S PROGRAM

Program Chair of the Day: Pat Martin

Christine Allison, Editor-in-Chief and CEO D Magazine Partners

Christine Allison is a marketer. She first worked as D Magazine's promotion manager in 1976, after a foiled attempt to start a newspaper for the Park Cities. More on that in a minute. After six years, she left D to create a boutique advertising agency, which served national and local clients. She sold it when she decided to move to New York with Wick Allison, with whom she now has four (remarkable) daughters.

Christine is also a writer. She has written thirteen books. Her range is wide, from John Paul II: A Tribute in Words and Pictures to 365 Bedtime Stories, 365 Days of Gardening, and Tell Me a Story, I'll Sing You a Song. In addition, she was a contributor to Reader's Digest for ten years.

The Allisons moved back to Dallas in 1995 to assume ownership of D Magazine, which in a few years, decided to acquire Park Cities People. Full circle, if you will. In 2000, she created D Home, and shepherded the creation of D Weddings and D's award-winning website, Dmagazine.com.

She now has assumed the mantle of Editor-in-Chief and CEO of D Magazine Partners, and is responsible for all editorial and operations, as well as D Custom, a nationally-recognized content marketing agency. She lives in Highland Park, on the corner of Armstrong and Versailles, with an amazing live oak in the front yard.

LAST WEEK

Presiding: PE Barb Jeffries
 Invocation: John Glancy
 Pledge: John Brown
 Photographer: Catherine Anderson
 Chair of the Day: Marcia Zidle
 Speaker: New Members
 Program: Introductions

President-Elect Barb Jeffries called the meeting to order; she was standing in for President Richard Stanford, who is out of the country. PP John Glancy gave the invocation, with concern for those who had damage from the recent tornado, but gratitude that no one was injured or killed. John Brown led the Pledge of Allegiance and "The Star Spangled Banner." Our visitors and guests were introduced. Happy Franklin introduced our Marketplace Advertiser of the week, Philip Ray, who is a criminal attorney.

Sgt-at-arms Cindy Cummings updated us on the RCPC Foundation. PE Barb explained how the RCPC Foundation is used. (See pg. 3 for more details.) The proceeds from the 4th of July Parade have been donated to the North Texas Food Bank.

Michael Rainwater reminded us to volunteer at Dentistry with a Heart at Agape Clinic. He said that they had received a grant from the RCPC for $2,200 for the day, but that for each of those dollars, twelve dollars of dental work would be provided to low income clients, who could not afford the work otherwise.

PE Barb announce the slate of officers for the 2020-2021 Rotary Year. She also said that the club would be looking at ways the club could help Walnut Hill Elem. School, which was destroyed by the tornado. The University Park Tree Lighting will be the afternoon of Sunday, November 17; volunteers are needed. Also, the shifts for Angel Tree have been put onto the RCPC website. Mark your calendars for the Christmas Party the evening of December 12.

Marcia Zidle reviewed the requirements of new members before they receive their Blue Badges. Then she introduced our new members speaking today. First was Rob Levy who said he is a second generation Dallas native and a third generation healthcare provider. He was a dentist and also taught in the hygiene program at Tarrant County Junior College. He volunteered at the free Dallas ISD clinics, and became chair of the dental clinic until it was closed in 2008 due to lack of funds. He enjoys community service and delivers Meals on Wheels and tutors through Readers 2 Leaders. The motto Service Above Self prompted him to join.

Next to speak was Jeff Brady, who started by relating a story of being threatened at gunpoint while covering a story in Mexico. He also said he ran into O.J. Simpson while covering the Super Bowl, and that he had seen an impressive launch of a space shuttle. He said he started this way because people always want to know some of the most interesting things he has experienced. He said he was born and grew up in Georgetown, and his dad was the first president of the RC of Georgetown. He has worked in TV in Louisiana and Arkansas before coming to WFAA. In 2009 he started a media marketing and PR firm, sold it to his partner and is now teaching at UNT.

Next to speak was Toby Zidle who said he was born and grew up in a town in Massachusetts just south of the New Hampshire border. The Rotary club invited high school students to lunch, so he was among those who attended. He attended college in Boston, then MIT. He also completed a MA in Management. After he graduated, he went to work for Amoco in Houston. He was offered a job in Australia, so they went to live in Sydney for several years. After that lived in Plano and Los Angeles before being offered a job in Norway, where they lived for five years. They moved back to Plano where he worked for another four years before retiring. He started volunteering at a hospital in Plano and was asked to join a project of UT-SW. From that he took over a research data base relating to surgeries and worked with that for fourteen years before retiring again.

THOUGHTS ON ... NOMINATIONS FOR 2020-2021

Dallas

My home in Dallas is wonderful. I can walk everywhere. It's a pretty good hidden secret, Dallas. There are wonderful restaurants and wonderful nightlife. It's just a beautiful city to be in. ~ Jodi Lyn O'Keefe

You wouldn't want to see the size of the check that I would write if it would for sure get the Dallas Cowboys a Super Bowl.~ Jerry Jones

But there is so much more to do for the city we love... a Dallas with roads as strong as our businesses, parks as beautiful as our children, a downtown as tall as our imagination. ~ Laura Miller

Dallas was a place where dreamers like my father were given a chance.

~ Lawrence Wright

Neiman-Marcus is one thing, and the Dallas Cowboys are another.

~ Mercedes McCambridge

Shoot, after you've been through freeway traffic in Houston or Dallas, there's no road in the world that can scare you. Besides, we're pretty much used to driving long distances in Texas. ~ Gib Lewis
