TODAY'S PROGRAM

Jo Giudice, Director

Dallas Public Library

Jo Giudice has been with the Dallas Public Library for almost 16 years, the past six of which she has served as its Director. She worked her way up through the ranks from Children's Librarian, Branch Manager, Youth Services Administrator and Interim Assistant Director before becoming the director. This has given her a chance to work at all levels of library service. As director she has initiated an active homeless engagement initiative and hired a social worker, added English Language Learning to 20 of the 28 branch locations and GED classes at 17 locations and with the help of Atmos Energy opened a GED Testing Center at the Central Library.

Jo attended the University of Florida where she earned a Bachelor's in Journalism and she earned her Master's in Library and Information Sciences from the University of South Carolina.

In 1899, the Dallas Federation of Women's Clubs conceived of a public library after it was determined that the city's future vital-ity depended upon having this free resource available to resi-dents. Grassroots fundraising and a grant from Andrew Carnegie established the first library building in 1901 with a head librarian, three assistants, and less than 10,000 volumes. A second library branch opened in 1914, and four more in the 1930s, including a library for the city's previously unserved African American popu-lation. In World War II, the library was fully established as a War Information Center, but by the 1950s the Carnegie Library was overused and overcrowded, and a new modern library was built on the same site and opened in 1954.

Today, the DPL system consists of the Central Library and 28 neighborhood branches tacross the breadth of the city. In fiscal year 2016 DPL had a staggering 7.2 million visi-tors, both online and in-person, and over 12,000,000 materials circulated,

October 24 is World Polio Day

*from Greg Pape

Rotary has made incredible progress in the fight to rid the world of polio forever. We've helped to re-duced polio cases by more than 99.9%

It's crucial to era-dicate polio from the last two countries where it remains en-demic and to keep other countries polio-free. If all eradication efforts stopped today, within 10 years, polio could paralyze as many as 200,000 children each year.

LAST WEEK

Presiding: Barb Jeffries
Invocation: Mary Bishop
Pledge: Mary Bishop
Marketplace: Mary McMahon
Photographer: Ian Mudge
Speaker: Meridan Zerner, Nutritionist Cooper Center
Program: Fit to Lead

President Barb Jeffries called the meeting to order at Maggianos. Mary Bishop gave the invocation, noting that President Barb's husband would be having surgery on his ankle. Please keep him in your prayers. PP Richard introduced our visitors and guests. Mary McMahon introduced our Marketplace Advertiser of this week, Philip Ray, a criminal defense attorney.

PP Greg Pape announced that World Polio Day is October 24. He introduced a recorded video, made by Owen Devlin, the District Foundation Chair. Owen spoke on the progress that had been made in eradicating polio throughout the world. PP Greg said that our club members had contributed over $10,000 since the beginning of the year. He also asked that we designate the annual share when we make our contributions to the RI Foundation. He explained that fifty percent of the Annual Share goes to the World Fund for use by clubs for grants around the world. The other fifty percent returns to the District for the local clubs to use for their grants. He then asked Richard Jodry and PP Richard Stanford to the podium and awarded them each a Paul Harris pin with five sapphires for their Every Rotarian Every Year contributions.

President Barb called on Stan Wright to introduce new member Kira Keenan, Tim Keenan's wife. She has been active in many of the volunteer activities, but has not had time to become a member.

President Barb announced that the Tree Lighting in Snider Plaza would be a smaller event this year. There will be an opportunity for the community to drop off toys. President Barb asked for volunteers to organize and work at the event. Stan Wright volunteered to head the committee. President Barb also announced that the club would be returning to virtual meetings from Mark Neace's studio for November and December, and would possibly consider returning to Maggianos in January with a modified plan.

Rob Levy introduced our speaker today, Meridan Zerner, a nutritionist at Cooper Aerobics, who spoke on "Fit to Lead." She began by saying that her Dad has been a Rotarian in Oregon for thirty years. She explained that nutrition is a science. Everyone is an individual and has to work out what works best for them. Being fit helps you to work longer, more effectively. People must identify sustainable, realistic nutrition strategies. It is easier to tackle bad habits one at a time. Research shows that when you try to change several, it is more difficult and success drops. She quoted Dr. Cooper who says it is easier to maintain good health than to regain it. Just a little movement every day can increase your life span. People should look toward their quality of life after retirement, not just deficient survival. A fit body and a fit mind depends on exercise, nutrition and stress management. There is no more powerful support for any group than leading by example. How can we take better care of ourselves to support better performance? What strengths can you use to create health? Americans are sleep deprived. Most adults need seven to eight hours of sleep every night. The best temperature for sleep is 65 to 68 degrees.

Please remember ...

President Barb's husband who will be having surgery on his ankle.

Email your prayer requests to Barb Jeffries so they can be shared at the Friday meeting.

Please let us know your joys and concerns

THOUGHTS ON . . .

Libraries

Don't join the book burners. Don't think you're going to conceal faults by concealing evidence that they ever existed. Don't be afraid to go in your library and read every book...
~ Dwight D. Eisenhower

When I step into this library, I cannot understand why I ever step out of it.
~ Marie de Sevigne

My library / Was dukedom large enough. ~ William Shakespeare

A library is an arsenal of liberty.
~ Unknown

I have always imagined that Paradise will be a kind of library.
~ Jorge Luis Borges

No place affords a more striking conviction of the vanity of human hopes than a public library
~ Samuel Johnson

The multitude of books is making us ignorant. ~ Voltaire

I find television very educational. The minute somebody turns it on, I go to the library and read a good book. ~ Groucho Marx

HE WHO LAUGHS, LASTS

- Why did the coach go to the bank?
  To get his quarter back.
- What did the fisherman say to the magician? Pick a cod, any cod.
- What do you call a fake noodle?
  An impasta.
- How do you organize a space party?
  You planet.
