TODAY'S PROGRAM

Program Chair of the Day: Don Linnen

Beverly Levy, Dallas CASA Every Day Heroes

Beverly Levy has been the Executive Director of Dallas CASA since 1993. CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) is an organization of community volunteers, appointed by the courts, to help abused and neglected children find safe, permanent homes where they can thrive. Dallas CASA is the third oldest CASA program of more than 1,000 programs across the country.

Since coming to Dallas CASA 21 years ago, Beverly has seen the agency grow from a staff of five with 50 volunteers to a staff now of 53 with more than 700 volunteer advocates helping more than 1,700 abused children a year.

In 2000, U.S. Attorney Paul Coggins and Beverly formed a collaboration of community leaders and heads of governmental agencies to make significant, systemic changes to move children through the court system more quickly. In 2005, Beverly received the Liberty Bell Award given by the Young Lawyers Association to recognize a non lawyer for outstanding contributions that promote justice. In 2011, she was named the National CASA Outstanding CASA Program Director of the Year. In 2012, Beverly received the Women's Advocacy Award for Non-profit Executives from Legal Aid of Northwest Texas.

www.dallascasa.org

Every year, more than 20,000 Dallas County children are reported abused or neglected.

What is a CASA Volunteer?

Dallas CASA volunteers are voices for abused and neglected children in court. CASA volunteers are trained and supervised to gather information and make recommendations that help judges decide the best possible outcome for children in foster care.

How CASA helps

CASA volunteers get to know the children, review records, research information and talk to everyone involved in a child's life — social workers, attorneys, judges, parents, teachers and family members. The volunteers then make recommendations to the court that help judges decide the best permanent home for the children.

For CASA volunteers, the ultimate goal is to help ensure that all of the children in protective care find safe, permanent homes where they can thrive. Some children reunite with parents or relatives, while others make a connection with adoptive parents.

For many children, a CASA volunteer is the only constant during a frightening, uncertain time. Few volunteer roles have such a critical and immediate impact on the life of a child as that of a CASA volunteer.

COMMITTEE TIME

Last week's program on Love Field was reported in The Dallas Morning News

"... Mark Duebner, speaking to the Rotary Club of Park Cities, said officials had predicted in 2008 that about 5.8 million people would board airplanes annually after the Wright amendment ended. That compares with about 4.2 million who flew out of Dallas in 2013...." Amsberry for proposing Happy Franklin for membership. She, in turn proposed two new members last Friday. He also thanked Shawn Foster for proposing Lori Seale and John Whaley in the past year.

New member John Whaley introduced our speakers, Mark Duebner, Director of Aviation for Dallas and Bernard Weinstein, Associate Director of the Maguire Energy Institute and an Adjunct Professor of Business Economics in the Cox School of Business at SMU.

Mr. Duebner is responsible for management of Dallas Love Field, Dallas Executive Airport and the City's vertiport. He explained that Love Field is an urban airport, owned by the city of Dallas and is self supporting. Love Field was founded as an army flying field in 1917, and named after First Lt. Moss Lee Love. The present terminal opened in 1958, with 58 gates. The Wright Amendment of 1979, limited the flights from Love Field to points in Texas and later to surrounding states. The Reform Act of 2006 led to the repeal of the amendment and was approved in 2008. It will take effect in October of this year opening Love Field to nonstop interstate traffic. It will bring more jobs, more travel dollars and more Enplane-ments (more travelers coming and going) through Love Field and to Dallas. Challenges will include more traffic to and from Love Field as well as economic risk in new development. Some are concerned about noise levels but the newer planes have quieter engines. The Love Field Master Plan includes condensing hangar space to use less land. The freed up land could then be put to better use.

THOUGHTS ON ...

Family

Happy families are all alike; every unhappy family is unhappy in its own way.

~ Leo Tolstoy

A family is a unit composed not only of children but of men, women, an occasional animal, and the common cold.

~ Ogden Nash

Family connexions were always worth preserving, good company always worth seeking.

~ Jane Austen

The family is the country of the heart.

~ Giuseppe Mazzini

The family is the nucleus of civilization.

~ William James Durant

Family isn't about whose blood you have. It's about who you care about.

economics of the change. Bringing more travelers into Dallas and new development will add to the local economy. However, air fares are expected to remain high mainly due to lack of competition. Southwest was able to remain at Love Field because they were established after the other airlines had agreed to move to DFW. Since Southwest had not signed the agreement it was ruled that they could remain at Love Field under the Wright Amendment. Other airlines tried to come in but were driven out largely by American. Mr. Weinstein was with Legend Airlines when they flew from Love Field. He favored the two gates given up by American Airlines remain as open gates for any airline. They went to Virgin America which will create a small amount of competition.

Anderson Jones closed the meeting with the Four Way Test.

Complete vs. Finished

No dictionary has ever been able to define the difference between "complete" and "finished". However, in a linguistic conference, held in London England, and attended by some of the best linguistics in the world, Samsundar Balgobin, a Guyanese was the clever winner.

His final challenge was this. Some say there is no difference between "complete" and "finished". Please explain the difference in a way that is easy to understand. His response was:

When you marry the right woman, you are "complete". If you marry the wrong woman, you are "finished". And, when the right one catches you with the wrong one, you are "completely finished".

His answer received a five minute standing ovation.
