Last Monday . . .

Arnow, trombone; and Tim Northcut, tuba. As part of the Philharmonic's Education programs they present over 50 performances in area schools each year.

The quintet shared with us several numbers with their own take on Holiday favorites while looking festive in their plaid pants ensembles. The group enjoyed the music.

President Jean thanked the quintet and Paul for providing our entertainment. The Queen of Hearts was drawn with no winner so the pot continues to grow. President Jean reminded the group to take home the poinsettias on the tables and wished everyone a happy holidays and closed our last meeting of 2019.

“Rotary’s Night with the Stars”

Thursday, January 16th

Muse Machine Presents

In The Heights

From Lin-Manuel Miranda (creator of Hamilton) comes the story of a vibrant community where the coffee from the corner shop is always light and sweet, the windows are always open and the breeze carries the rhythm of three generations of music. On the brink of change, friends and family bring their hopes and dreams to life.

Starring more than 100 young people from across the Miami Valley, the Muse Machine musical has been praised by The Dayton Daily News as “a performing arts all-star effort,” while The Oakwood Register has called it “an evening of true theatrical joy...”
