The Myth of "When I Get..."

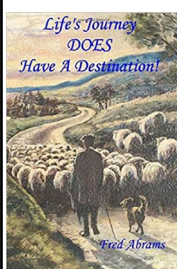

Making Contentment Your Life's Destination

Rotary Calendar

Speaker: Fred Abrams

Fred Abrams will provide a presentation based on the underlying theme of his most recent book "Life's Journey Does Have A Destination." That book was an outgrowth of the reaction to the second half (rebuilding your life after your spouse dies) of his earlier book "Thanks For The Dance" and its emphasis on the power of gratitude. The title of the presentation is "The Myth of 'When I get...'" The presentation will differentiate between happiness and contentment and lay out Fred's prescription for finding contentment and the importance of gratitude in that quest.

The zoom meeting was called to order at 12:02 by President Jean Maychack on day 36 of the stay at home order with 80 Rotarians online. Bill Nance gave the invocation and led us in the 4-Way Test then gave us the news of the day. Jean informed the group that Secretary Kim Bramlage couldn't be on the meeting today so Jean gave the clubs announcements which included announcing the rescheduled Red Ribbon Take Over Meeting to June 22nd. Rotarian Cassie Barlow a member of the Red Ribbon Committee gave us some of the details about their plans to raise funds for the Dayton Rotary Food Bank/Dayton VA Fundraiser. The Red Ribbon Group originally planned to collect both monetary donations as well as food donations but have decided just to concentrate on the monetary side as the Food Bank is able to stretch those dollars and do more. A $100 donation can provide 600 meals and the Red Ribbon goal is to raise enough funds to provide 60,000 meals. If you would like to donate between now and June 22nd you may do so on the food bank website <https://thefoodbankdayton.org/donate/> please be sure to designate the contribution is for "Dayton Rotary VA Foodbank Fundraiser" Jean then recognized those Rotarians with birthdays during the week. She also announced that we have just received a matching grant from the Rotary District 6670 Fund for Covid Relief in the amount of $3,750 that will be used to aid the Dayton Public Schools in the cost of distributing printed learning packets for those students who don't have access to a computer or to the internet so that they can continue their learning while schools remain closed. Jean announced that today's undesignated Day-10s would go towards our matching contribution for the project. Thank you to all the Rotarians who rose to the occasion we received over $3,600 in pledges. Paul Gruner, Frank Scott, Alan Moscovitz, Dick Hattershire, Chuck Vella, Carolyn Rice, Matt Scarr and Susan Hayes each gave a Day-100 for the project. Dean Alexander gave a Day-104 for National Parks. Penny Wolff gave a Day-100 for her son's recent win in front of the Supreme Court. Charlie Campbell gave a Day-100 for his birthday. Dave & Terry Williamson gave a Day- 400.8. Rick Schwartz gave a Day-100 in honor of WDPR. Jean Maychack, Sue Taylor, Roger Vanderhorst and John Lyman gave a Day-100 for the DPS project. Linda Groover gave a Day-50 reminding all that as businesses open back up that friends office can help with redesigning your office to make sure that social distancing can continue and well as all the cleaning supplies you may need. Donna Childs, Shaun Yu, Lisa Holmes, Randy Clark and Bill Nance each gave a Day-50 for the DPS project. Shannon Isom gave a Day-118 for the DPS project and for her daughter. Susie Weaver gave a Day-40 for the students she works with at Eastmont. President Jean then introduced newest member Brandon McClain, Montgomery County Recorder whose office has remained busy during this time. He shared that he is excited to be a member of the group. President Jean then asked that any Rotarian who would like to service on the District Conference Committee to help plan the conference during Dayton Rotarian Greg Birkemeyer's year as District Governor starting in July. The conference will be held in April 2021.

President Jean then called on Rotarian Shaun Yu to share his story about finding his love of classical music. Shaun shared the history of WDPR how it came about. In 2001 they started streaming to audiences around the world. Shaun then shared with us his 2014 TEDxDayton talk about "Embracing your Driveway Moment"

In his TEDx talk Shaun shared his love of music. For some reason people think that you need to know something about classical music in order to be able to enjoy it. The fact is you don't need to know any musical terminology to enjoy classical music.

Shaun told us the story of his road to Classical Music and how one day while in Oregon sitting in his driveway he found himself staying in the car to finish listening to Russian Composer, Rakhmaninov. His second driveway moment was a guitar concerto (composed over losing his child) the strum of the guitar represents the child's heart-beat. The whole 5 stages of grief came through in one movement of his concerto.

Shaun then shared some more specifics on WDPR/WDPG which is located on the first floor of the Loft Theater. They have an enormous library of over 10,000 CDs. Their AM host Larry Coressel was recently inducted into the Dayton Area Broadcasters Hall of Fame he has been the weekday morning host since 1987. The station has no new and no political aspects. They are an independent 24 hour classical station that gets 60% of its funding through listener support pledge drives held twice a year.

One of the things the station helps with is collecting new and used orchestra and band instruments to be distributed to Stivers HS students and Ruskin Elementary Students in the Q the Music Program. Students. They do this in cooperation with Grismer Tire through their "It's Instrumental" Program. They also conduct a young talent search each year at their Rising Star Gala which they partnered with Levitt Pavilion last year and the student performed on stage at the Pavilion.

What can you do? Please listen and support the station whether you listen on the radio or stream the music. If the spirit moves you please support financially.

If you would like to watch Shaun's TEDx talk you may do so at the below link.
