The theme for Rotary in 2017 – 2018 was – Make a Difference.

The Board members together with their committee, and commitment to hard work ensured we had a successful year.

Club members and their partners for their active work throughout the year, and with teamwork our Club Made a Difference.

On the 17th of July 2017 we welcomed our Exchange Student Jenna Saxe from Rome, Pennsylvania, and what a great year it was for Jenna. Jenna immediately settled into the Rotary Family and was an absolute delight to host. The second host family was Michael and Jacque McCabe, then Brad and Helen Silby. She made many friends both within our club, at St Ignatius and at her sporting clubs.

Through club events members consistently promoted our club and Rotary to our local community and beyond. Our first successful community and fundraising event was the Mayoral Ball, raising $30,000 for the North-Eastern Community Hospital Nursery Upgrade. It was thanks to Immediate PP Bryan Schell and his team in bringing it together. The 1st Prize was a Mazda 3 supplied by Paradise Mazda, 2nd Prize $3, 000 cash and 3rd Prize $2,000 cash. Community also supported, Campbelltown Christmas Pageant, Orange Sky Laundry, Back packs for Hutt Street Shelter, Technology for Ageing and Disability,

Members from Group 7 clubs gathered at Thorndon Park, to support the End Polio Now Campaign and the District 9520 Rotary Ute Rally. The Mazda Ute provided by Paradise Motors was displayed in front of the kiosk for the afternoon. The generosity amongst the public was felt as they gave donations and purchased raffle tickets. A successful day of fellowship amongst the community and members

Club success is created by increased awareness of club projects and activities among members and the community, and once again this was achieved by Campbelltown Rotary Outback Experience exposing the good, we are doing in the community, sharing Rotary values, networking, fellowship, and service above self. A cheque of $35,000.00 was presented to the Royal Flying Doctors Service, it was through the work of Mal and Val Hansen, and the dedicated committee supporting CROE7, that this was again able to occur, we were also able to make donations to Angel flight, Operations Flinders, Indigenous Health Scholarship, also work carried out on the Charles Campbell Grave Restoration.

We were recipient of a district grant for the International Committee's Project with Cebu, we sponsored three Shelter boxes to the Philippines, and continued our Fiji School Project.

We also continued our donations to the Rotary Foundation.

During the year, we presented Four Paul Harris Fellow Pins, two Sapphire Pins, and 3 Double Sapphire Pins, they were presented at Club Birthday, DG Bob Cooper's visit, District Conference, and RYLA Graduation.

We hosted three students to the National Youth Science Forum, three students to the Rotary youth Program of Enrichment (Rypen) three attendees to Rotary Youth Leadership Awardee program (Ryla)

Business Excellence Awards were presented to Spring Gully Foods, and Melann's Sewing and Fabric, Pride of Workmanship to Bernadette Shears, and Community Service Award to Sandy Hansen.

We visited Railway Museum, Little Bang Brewery on Vocational visits, and enjoyed Fellowship at the Yacht Club and enjoyed a movie at the Spring Gully Theatre., and as each year continued with Christmas Dinner, Children's Christmas Party, Shed BBQ, Club Birthday, and a Fringe show.

We received District Award for District Conference attendance and Fundraising.

We inducted seven members and had eight Rotarians graduate through the Rotary Leadership Institute.

We also had members recognized outside of Rotary, with Peter Allen recognized as the City of Campbelltown Citizen of the year, and Stephany Martin recognized not only as the Campbelltown Young Citizen of the year, but the South Australian young Citizen of the Year.

Fundraising raised a total of $140,00.00, The shed raised $78,000 which also provided not only well needed funds, but enjoyment for many members, money was also raised from Art Show, Wine Sales, Porchetta Night, Entertainment books, and the Mayoral Ball.

The Neale Family continued their support to the Club, and the Campbelltown Council continued their support and strong relationship.

I am very proud of the work of Rotary, and am proud to be a Rotarian, and enjoy the fellowship from the members of our club.

My first Quote of the week was by Nelson Mandela- We can change the world and make it a better place.

It is in our hands to – Make a Difference – and that we achieved.

Guest Speaker – Douglas Allington- Death, Loss & Grief

Damian Leach introduced guest speaker Douglas Allington who we are very grateful, at short notice was happy to speak to us tonight on Death, Loss & Grief.

Douglas for many years was a Uniting Church Minister and was a member of the Grief Support Team at the Mary Hospice Centre. Following that he retired from his ministerial duties and became a marriage & funeral celebrant. We are fortunate that Douglas will share his life's work and observations especially related to Death Loss & Grief.

Douglas then spoke sincerely about his past & life experiences, mixed with humour on what we can learn and tips to cope with Death, Loss & Grief. Death is not handled very well in modern society. In earlier times, death was more accepted as part of life. Life was tough going & short at times. Just walk around any old cemetery and read the tombstones! The fact is that in modern times we have the same death rate as last century and the times before that. i.e., The Death rate is 100%. So, despite our modern health system, Death is a fact of life. Some people deal with it well and others deal with it by not dealing with it.

Entropy is a physics term and a measure of disorder and relates well to why life seems to get more, not less, complicated as time goes on." Entropy is all around you. Cells within your body are dying and degrading, an employee or coworker is making a mistake, the floor is getting dusty, and the heat from your coffee is spreading out. Zoom out a little, and businesses are failing, crimes and revolutions are occurring, and relationships are ending. Zoom out a lot further, and we see the entire universe marching towards a collapse." (Read more here)

Douglas's talk was from the heart and faced the big life questions that affect us all.

Psychologist J. William Worden provides a framework of four tasks that help us understand how people journey through grief. Healing happens gradually as griever address these tasks, in no specific order, going back and forth from one to another over time.

Task 1: To Accept the Reality of the Loss

Although you know intellectually that the person has died, you may experience a sense of disbelief. Integrating the reality of their death means "taking it in" with your whole being.

For example, the reality may begin to set in immediately after the death, when you must call the mortuary, attend the memorial or pick up the ashes.

Many weeks, months or years later when an occasion arises that they would have been part of the reality again hits you as you realize that your dear one has died and they aren't here to share these moments with you.

Task 2: To Process the Pain of Grief

Grief is experienced emotionally, cognitively, physically, and spiritually.

People may be telling you: "Get over it; move on; be strong." In contrast, one of the aims of grief support groups is to encourage and facilitate the safe expression of all the natural grief reactions.

Task 3: To Adjust to a World Without the Deceased

External adjustments include taking on responsibilities and learning new skills.

Internal adjustments are made as you adapt to your new identity.

Spiritual adjustments occur as you grapple with questions about your belief system and the purpose and meaning of life.

Task 4: To Find an Enduring Connection With the Deceased in the Midst of Embarking on a New Life

Gradually you create a balance between remembering the person who died and living a full and meaningful life.

(Based on Worden, J. W. (2009). Grief Counselling and Grief Therapy: A Handbook for the Mental Health Practitioner, Fourth Edition, Springer, N.Y.)

Douglas also spoke on some common questions /observations such as: -

- Children at Funerals? – He found that children handle death in their own way, at their own level.
e.g. A little boy after the funeral ceremony was finished still remained looking down quietly into the grave and said to the minister “Is that where heaven is?”
- Viewing at funerals? – common in the past and is not for everyone. But for some it helps to bring closure or comfort.
- In grief allow yourself to hurt & endure it and let it work its way through. This is better than not facing it. e.g., reverting to drugs, alcohol, refusing to talk about it, getting away from it all or jumping to a new relationship or being super busy. This all catches up with you sometime. There will be a lessening of pain if we don’t deny it.
- Your own death. How can we prepare both mentally and practically for that? eg a Will, Advance Care Directive etc.

Douglas concluded by handing out a factsheet for which he hopes that many will find helpful in navigating Death Loss & Grief.

DEATH, LOSS AND GRIEF - a brief tour through some difficult pathways

Death, loss, grief and funerals are not really the most popular subjects in our society.

Even saying the word “death” can be very hard for many people. We often speak of “losing” someone or that they have departed this life. At least William Shakespeare had some style when he wrote “When we have shuffled off this mortal coil”

Death is a fact of life, which some people deal with well... and some not at all.

Entropy the degree of disorder of a system. We are all in this together.

Elizabeth Kubler-Ross wrote about the stages of grief. That was 40 years ago or more, but her ideas can be helpful if we don’t try to use them as literal stepping stones on the way to recovery.

Most people ‘get through’ the death of others, and the grief that accompanies it, pretty well.

Thinking of a funeral service and all that surrounds it as a ‘celebration’ of a life can be a helpful approach. That doesn’t mean we must be brave and full of smiles all the time and remember only the good times. The aim of a celebration is to help a person find a place in their life for the one who has died, and to do it in a way that enhances their own living.

J William Worden has set out his understanding of the Four Tasks of Mourning.

1. To accept the reality of the loss. This takes the time it takes, because it must occur in the heart as well as in the head.
2. To work through (not around) the pain of grief. If we allow ourselves to avoid the pain we can expect it to be prolonged.
3. To adjust to an environment without the person who has died. This is when we may need the help of others.
4. Emotionally to RELOCATE in our own lives, the person who has died. They obviously are not now in the same place as they were before they died. Finding that appropriate place for them, so that we can go on living effectively with them in the place we have found, is the crux of Task 4

Worden’s material is available on the internet.

Finally we have our own death to prepare for in some way.

Making a will, talking with our family and telling them what we want.

Planning our funeral service even.

You don’t HAVE to do this of course, but if not, you might ask yourself the question “Why not?”

- Can you help out at the Shed ? or Have a few hours to spare ? If you can please contact Ralph Holmes . He would love to have some more helpers for pickups and especially with meeting buyers at the Shed after digital sales. This is not difficult, but you need to be on call at a designated time to meet and greet buyers as required. If you can spare a day a week either Monday, Wednesday ,Thursday or Friday . Ralph can then draft up a roster to share the duties.
- Community Director Elizabeth Gagliardi spoke on how well the Community Connections Café was going. It is on again this Wed 9th March from 10:30am-1pm. It originally started with 8 people attending but by word of mouth there are now 21. A great success. Lunch is provided by meals on Wheels, and we have cooking demonstrations thanks to Angela Ruotolo and Chair Yoga exercises by Elena Russo.

Though the Café is going well we NEED MORE HELPERS especially to SETUP.

PLEASE CONSIDER TURNING UP, SEE WHAT IS HAPPENING & PERHAPS LEND A HAND.

The Council provides GREAT SUPPORT, but we just NEED a FEW MORE HELPERS to SHARE THE ACTIVITIES.

- Welfare officer's Report- (Please contact Peter Rumbelow on 0402 844 304 or peter@rumbelow.net)
Peter Rumbelow Welfare Officer
- Gwenda Schubert has been in hospital since last Thursday with a blood infection. They have now identified the strain and her condition is improving. Our thoughts are with John and Gwenda hoping for a quick recovery.
- Shipra Sareen has contracted Covid, and we also wish her a speedy and complete recovery.
- Jim Beare has injured a leg and Margaret is on the sick list. We missed their cheery presence at our meeting and hope to see them soon.
- Lou Dimech is going through a difficult time. He has been in and out of hospital several times in the past two weeks for blood transfusions which result in fluid retention causing heart and lung problems. The Covid restrictions at RAH have stopped his children from visiting him and Meryl can't return if she leaves so, he went home. Please hold Lou and his family in your thoughts in these harrowing times.

- It was good to see John Bennett at Geoff Thorpe's funeral and I include a message sent to the Thorpe family from Jennifer Waiwo, a student he recognized had great potential when he taught at Matevulu College in Vanuatu after his retirement from the SA Education Department.

For all those who are unwell, under treatment or convalescing and are mentioned in this column your Rotary family are thinking of you and your loved ones as your welfare and health are of concern to us all. May you get better soon.
