Ken Roberts complained about the last newsletter. He says I pick on him. I would never do that, would I?

Satinder Baweja led us in a beautiful invocation, followed by Larry Bisno with the pledge, and Bob was still notably missing. Lynette Pieper was our greeter.

Nathan Barbera returned to be the Sergeant-at-arms, (Did someone remember to collect his $5.00 which Kelly levied against him the previous week?)

There were no Visiting Rotarians. This is two weeks in a row. Are we not the popular club with the best food anymore?

Nathan decided to pick on someone at his table for Inside Rotarian Studio, Charles. Hey Nathan that will be $5.00 more, for not telling us his last name. I had to go to find out who this person was, and thank goodness we have only one Charles in the club and I hope I am guessing correctly. Nathan chose Charles Milby, Right?

Charles was born in Pasadena, California on the air force base. His father was in the natural gas business after he left the Air Force. He went to high school south of the Woodlands. Played Basketball in high school and they were rated 5th in the state as a 5A school.

Started college at A&M, transferred to Stephan F., met his wife and never went back to A&M. Degree was in business and marketing, although his first job was as a bartender, while he waited to find a real job.

Today he is an independent insurance agent and has been doing that for 22 years with the same firm. He wishes he could be an outfitter, because he likes to hunt and fly fish.

Charles called LB Showalter about joining our club and he was blown off. It took three years for LB to get back to him. LB you should be fined for that.

David Bowman was called to the podium to receive his 6 year pin. Nathan Barbera received his 8 year pin.

Next, Ean Sullivan was called to the podium along with Dennis Hogg and Rick Boyer, who were inducted into the club. If you get a chance, sit with these new members and get to know them and welcome them. We are a friendly group of people, Right? Well, most of the time.

Nancy looked pretty funny, as Kelly Palmer announced that he was Nancy, ie: was standing in for her.

Ean gave his announcement to buy $100 a chance Raffle tickets supporting the Rotary International Foundation. YOU could win a Luxury Sports Vacation with the taxes included. For more information go to this website:

David Whorter introduced our speaker for this week, Pat Reeder

Pat Reeder has worked in both corporate communications and entertainment for nearly three decades. He has written for clients ranging from Sylvania and Southwestern Bell to Tony Randall to Barney the Dinosaur. He's been a major market radio DJ and production director for stations such as KLUV here in Dallas. Many people don't realize that radio shows have writers just like TV shows. Pat was the head writer for the syndicated Morning Punch service when it was named by trade a papers as the best written service in the radio industry. He and his wife and writing partner Laura Ainsworth then launched their own service, "The Comedy Wire."

Then-Arkansas Governor Mike Huckabee saw that at a radio station and became a fan. When he ran for President, he would sometimes use Pat's political one-liners in presidential debates. When he was asked to do his own radio show, he told ABC that he'd do it only if Pat and Laura would write it for him. SO now, Pat works every day with Governor Huckabee to write "The Huckabee Report," the most popular short syndicated feature in radio, heard three times daily on about 600 stations nationwide. He's also the author of two books, "Hollywood Hi-Fi" and one he'll be speaking about today that Governor Huckabee wrote the foreword for. It's called "Nine Hallmarks of Highly Incompetent Losers."

These Nine Hallmarks are as follows:

1. Never Plan Ahead
2. Lose Sight of Your Goal
3. Do not Sweat the Details
4. Do not Communicate Clearly

5. Work while Drunk, High or Other Addictions

6. Call Undue Attention to Yourself

7. Lose Your Cool

8. Claim Talents you do not Have

9. Bend Over Too Far Backwards

At the end of Pat's presentation, Earnest told Pat to remember his name, LB Showalter, as he was handing him his perpetual calendar.

Earnest called Johnny Lewis to the podium to correct his mistake on how many years Johnny has been a member of our club. Johnny was presented with his 27 year pin and he was honored to close the meeting by leading the Four Way Test.
