Shauna Davidson—Orit Barpunu Primary School, Uganda

Arranged by Wayne Casper

Shauna Davidson, Co-Founder and Board President, Orit Barpunu Primary School located in Kampala, Uganda from January 2017 to present. She was a Grant and Compliance Specialist for Educate, company located in Kampala, Uganda from June 2015 to present. A Grants Manager for Attention Homes located in Boulder, Colorado from June 2011 to June 2015. Education background: The London School of Economics and Political Science, London, England with a Master of Science Degree in Anthropology and Development and a BA Degree in Anthropology and Studio Art from Southwestern University. She was born in Texas, parents grew up in Nebraska. A Husker Fan!!!

In 2006 I spent a summer volunteering in orphanages around Guatemala, and I couldn't believe the large rooms with bunk beds that the children were living in and a very small staff to serve them. I decided to dedicate my life to help make sure kids around the world have the support and opportunities they need to feel loved and accomplish their dreams. After getting my Master's degree in Anthropology and International Development from the London School of Economics, I moved to Uganda, where I have been living and working for the past three years fundraising for an education non-profit.

One of the struggles of living in Uganda is coming face to face with how much privilege I've had access to in my life just from being born in an affluent country, compared to many people in Uganda who were born into a life where they struggle just to find food every day. I dreamed of starting my own non-profit that could help children get access to the same opportunities I've had in life. But my experience and education have taught me that Ugandans know best what would benefit their country and that they are the best people to lead development projects. Then I met Etyang Fred, a Ugandan that grew up in a large slum in the capital of Uganda. Fred told me he had been dreaming since high school of building a school in his family's village, where kids have to walk two hours to get to the nearest school. Fred and I decided to join together and build Nahla Nursery and Primary School to provide quality education to over 350 children in his village that lacked access to education, enabling them to develop their community and lift themselves out of poverty.

A Rotary Thank You to Shauna Davidson on an excellent update presentation on Orit Barpuna Primary School

While I can't solve all the problems that everyone in poverty around the world faces, we are helping over 350 children and their families in Uganda get access to quality education that is already changing their lives. We've already seen incredible changes in their confidence and knowledge, just from half a school year! If all of those children can take up the same spirit as Fred and give back to their community and their country, we can all make an exponential difference together!

Our school is named after Nahla, a seven year old girl that spent a year raising $2,000 to build a well, so that kids could have access to clean water. Our hope is that all the children at our school have that same spirit, and use their education to make a difference in their community.

- ◆ We have 13 teachers that teach primary school grades 1-6 (ages 5-12, 16/17)
- ◆ We also have a nursery (kindergarten)
- ◆ We follow Uganda's national curriculum and provide extra trainings for our teachers

Instead of attending school, children:

- ◆ help their family farm
- ◆ get married early
- ◆ spend their time idle, leading to early alcohol use and the spread of HIV/AIDS.

Without education, children face the same future as their parents, continuing the cycle of poverty.

Here's what we've accomplished so far:

In 2017:

- ☐ Established a US 501c3 non-profit
- ☐ Raised $100,000 for construction and costs of running the school in 2018
- ☐ Built a primary school with seven classrooms

In 2018:

- ☐ Hired 13 teachers
- ☐ Opened the school and enrolled 350 children

We are working on a partnership with the government to support our long-term operating costs, and have plans to develop a sustainable business that employs local villagers to provide income for the school. In the meantime, we need to raise at least $35,000 to keep the school running in 2019, and we are 25% of the way there. Our administrative and fundraising costs are extremely low – over 96% of the money raised goes directly to the school. We are looking for people to join with us to help change these children's lives and empower them to create a better future for themselves and their families.

Minnie's World Polio Day Challenge

A challenge to all Lincoln East Rotarians to help eradicate polio around the world. If you are not aware, October 24th, is World Polio Day. My birthday happens to fall on October 24th and I am willing to give Lincoln East $10.00 toward Polio and ask that each member match or go beyond that during the month of October. All donations would go toward eradicating polio. Please think about this. I would not like the donations to try and match my age. Sorry. Want to make it easy to match.
