We take opportunities to thank each one of you for trusting this experiment in love and gross generosity. We critically recognize great deal of patience trust of each stakeholder. The journey of success went through several bottlenecks and impediments but we truly enjoyed these experiences. We are very proud of children and they are responding more than we expected. We are also grateful for parents for trusting us keeping aside cultural stereotypes and beliefs. We hope to continue recycling their dreams fostering a sense of vivid hopefulness.

Parents Participation

At the beginning the major deal was to make parents believe that these children may have normal life and they are simply differently baled. They may easily be integrated into mainstream communities of children. Since the children are mostly from secluded communities sidelined over the decades and have experienced hardships and deprivation hence they lacked to believe the facts. But now they are participating in every affair of child if they are needed. We are moved by the degree of cooperation they are extending. The sparks of hopes in their eyes and confidence in smiles simply illustrate that we are touching communities gently. They seem ready to dismiss single story of denial and deprivation.

Standard of assessment and evaluation

We are absolutely committed to having prudent assessment and evaluation of each child with remarkable parameter. We are also involving high ends professionals into practice.

Disseminating skills of practices and orienting skills of our technical staff Members

We are indeed working in remote villages of Bodhgaya Region of Bihar India yet our effort is to prescribe and practice best approaches. We recently invited clinical Psychologist Dr Mansi from Metropolitan Bombay for leading workshop for our staff members. Yes the workshop yielded to upscale approaches. We are very open to explore multiple tools that are being used in training, orienting and educating children with special needs. Since India is currently experiencing a sort of paradox that young professionals aspire to work in the cities. Here we also succeeded to demonstrate attitudinal shift and we now have a clinical psychologist on full term basis.
