KIRKSVILLE ARTS ASSOCIATION AND RED BARN ARTS & CRAFTS FESTIVAL: Matt Eichor introduced KAA President Linda Treasure. She became president (following President Amanda Langendoerfer) a few months before the fire that destroyed the original arts center. Linda, originally from Iowa, is retired from the Missouri Department of Mental Health where she worked for about 30 years. She is married to Steve Treasure and they have three children who all reside out of the area. Linda invited us to the Ribbon Cutting and Open House on September 23 beginning at 5 pm, with reception from 5-7 pm. She spoke about various exhibits including “Regional Visions” with local artists that opens tomorrow. A reception for that exhibit will be September 16, 5-7 pm.

Linda then introduced Ashton Clema and Aaron Fine, Festival Chair who both spoke about the upcoming Red Barn Arts & Crafts Festival on Saturday, October 2 from 9 am-4 pm and what it has to offer.

Ashton is the Arts Administrator at the Sue Ross Arts Center for KAA, a position she has held since January. She graduated from Culver-Stockton College in 2017 with her Bachelor of Fine Arts and minor in Marketing. Soon after she started at FCS Financial and worked there for 3 years. She is originally from Atlanta, MO. She and her husband Brandon Clema now live south of Macon on a farm and are expecting their first little one September 21st. Aaron is a Professor of Art and Chair of Department of Art, Design and Art History at Truman State University. He previously worked for a non-profit commercial art agency in Ohio and Illinois. He holds a Master of Fine Art and Painting from Claremont Graduate University in Los Angeles. He recently published a new book “Color Therapy - A Critical Introduction”.

Linda encouraged us to check out the Sue Ross Arts Center building, its exhibits and the salvaged mosaics which Ashton has set up in great designs!
