CHECK: President Elizabeth presented a $150 club check to CAPNEMO representative Angie Sullivan (right) for its Community Resource Fair.

HelpingWithFlags.com: Jeff Romine announced this software with a monthly subscription fee. Its capabilities help clubs organize logistics more efficiently and ensure flag subscribers receive timely, hassle-free service, enhancing overall satisfaction.

CLASSIFICATION TALKS - ADAM SNYDER AND COREY LUEBBERING

ADAM SNYDER grew up on a farm west of Novinger, graduated from Kirksville High School in 2016 and later, MACC. After working for the Missouri Dept. of Conservation, he managed a 6,000 acre corn and soybean farm where he supervised H2A visa workers from South Africa. When Mormons bought the farm, he transitioned to real estate, working for Century 21 and last year sold just shy of $10 million worth of property. See more on Adam attached to the cover email.

COREY LUEBBERING graduated third in his class at Blair Oak HS in Wardsville, MO, just outside Jefferson City and then earned bachelor and masters degrees, the latter with academic honors. He is currently working on his doctorate in health sciences. The father of two children, he works in coordinating research for A.T. Still University. In the information attached to the cover email, you will learn more about Corey.

50-50 Drawing: Kevin Butner did not pull the ace of spades; pot now up to $1,033.
