GARY LONDON

SAN DIEGO: A CITY ON THE CUSP OF GENERATIONAL TRANSITION

Gary H. London is Senior Principal and founding partner of London Moeder Advisors, providing feasibility analysis, market research, strategic advice, and capital packaging for investors, lenders and developers. His work has resulted in the creation of master planned communities, mixed use projects, substantial built product as well as numerous transactions. Over the past five decades Mr. London has counseled many of the nation's most successful entrepreneurs and public officials about the built environment, how to transform our cities, and prepare for a future that will be unlike the past.

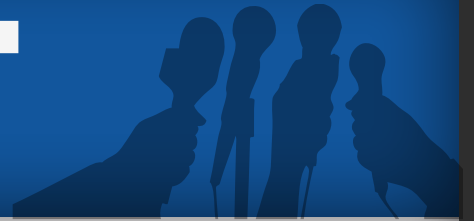

A graduate of UC Berkeley, he also received his post graduate MCP degree from San Diego State University. He also attended post graduate course work in Expert Witness Litigation at the University of California, Bolt Law School. He is a lecturer and educator, having taught as a university professor at UCSD for 22 years, SDSU, Arizona State's graduate MSRE program and the University of San Diego (USD), where he currently teaches.

Mr. London is featured in the San Diego Union Tribune's weekly "EconoMeter" sharing his views on the great economic issues of our time. He has appeared on CBS Evening News "Eye On America" for his commentary on the real estate market, and has testified before the House of Representatives Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs. In 1995, he was featured in the San Diego Business Journal's "Who's Who In San Diego"; and was honored as "Member Of The Year" in 1996 from the San Diego Land Economics Society (Lambda Alpha International). In 2016, he was honored as one of the top 100 Most Influential persons in San Diego by the San Diego Daily Transcript.

Luke started the meeting promptly and brought Bev up as Rotarian of the Day. She quickly took a different spin at her time at the front of the meeting, expressing her love for Ralph Waldo Emerson and explaining that she wanted to show us some of her “greatest” hits at Rotary. Originally joining from a familial relationship and interest in making friends she discovered a true interest in the club and has a few things to explain that have marked her Rotary career. Stay current with technology, be curious be open to leadership, work to find a solution and make sure to help each other.

Rotarian of the day will now no longer have to just be about your particular story but it can be just a story you want to talk about.

Phillip made an impactful tribute to Leanne Cusack and her husband brought up vocational services and all the opportunities it plans to support as well as its plan for the future, he was also announced as the leader of the next meeting, lucky him!

We are also thinking of changing the format of the newsletter everyweek. There will be a business mixer on September 5th

Party for Bonnie and Krishna’s non-wedding on August 3rd is happening and they would like RSVP’s by July 23rd

Ron Kohl brought up the Ensenada project which will be at the same location and a great group of Rotarians has already gone out and scouted the area. They are also looking for toys

Our speaker Steve began his presentation about waves very humbly before mentioning he now runs a huge foundation that supports wounded veterans in ways that are not easy to see. It’s obvious that these veterans need help but its not always easy to see what needs to be done. Steve and team has pushed diving as a very therapeutic activity not only for the physical side of veterans but for the emotional and psychological. It helps veterans build a community where they can not only live better but flourish. They also do pleasure trips to help foster fellowship. Rotary has been a huge supporter of the project so he’d like to give thanks but also show how much has been done and still can be worked on. The video was dark yet, inspiring.

We ended the meeting with some trivia from Luke and the allure of getting slap bracelets. It seems that people may be getting “slapped” this year, with slap bracelets.

ROTARIAN OF THE DAY

Since the last time I was Rotarian of the day, not much has changed. I still work for Microsoft as a consultant. It is a great place to work, and I really enjoy my colleagues. I'm excited to have more variety in my job as I move from project to project. My family is doing great. I have enjoyed doing a fair amount of traveling in June to break up the working from home.

My Daughter has finished her first year at college in Ireland and is doing great. Michelle and I are proud of how well she has done. We are enjoying having her home for the summer. She is catching up with friends and taking in the sun while she can.
