GUEST SPEAKER: JUDY SCARAFILE, PRESIDENT OF THE CCBL

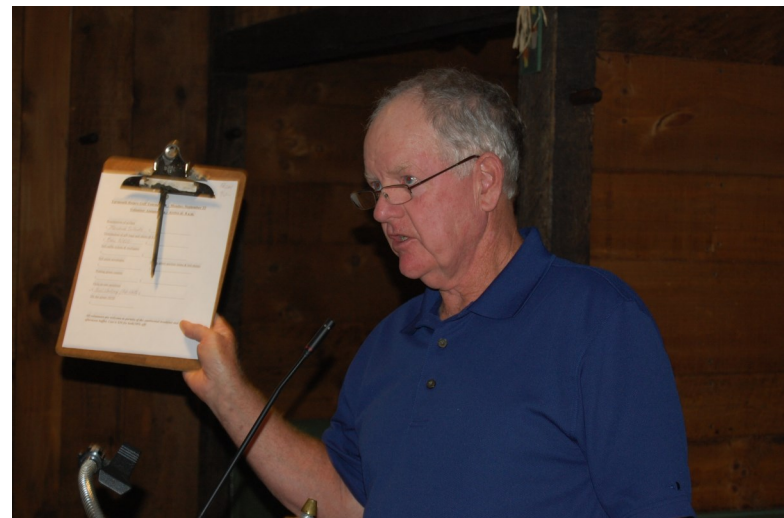

Janice Matheson introduced Guest Speaker, Judy Scarafile, President of the Cape Cod Baseball League for the past 23 years, a time of both growth and stability for the CCBL. While those two descriptions might sound contradictory, they are more reflective of Judy's enthusiasm and leadership that she has brought to the position, along with overseeing a core of over 200 energetic volunteers and baseball devotees.

Her overall career with the CCBL spans over four decades. Judy outlined aspects of the extensive history of baseball on Cape Cod, as well as why the CCBL is so unique and respected among regional summer and college baseball leagues, particularly by Major League Baseball. She presented an inside look on its operations, relationships, and events which have made the Cape Cod Baseball League “the Number One volunteer organization with the greatest impact on Cape Cod.” As for stories, ask her about past CCBL players such as Anthony Ranaudo, to name just one out of many...

Less known to the public is Judy's own background. Here are some highlights: • community and hospital pharmacist for over 39 years; • college baseball reporter for the Connecticut Daily Campus newspaper (1968); • 1st woman reporter in the press box at Yankee Stadium in 1970, a game between the CCBL and a NY summer league (pre-dating the eventual “acceptance” of female sports reporters!); • Trustee of the Yawkey Foundation & Chair of the Grants Committee; • volunteer pharmacist on the Hurricane Katrina Disaster Relief Mobile medical Team; and • Project MediShare field hospital worker after the Haiti earthquake.
