RISING STAR: CINDY LI, DENNIS-YARMOUTH REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL

Nicole D’Errico, D-Y Guidance Counselor, enthusiastically introduced Rising Star Cindy Li, a student with whom she has worked for the past three years (and the student with the highest GPA in the Senior Class), by noting her strong motivation and curiosity, her drive and initiative, plus her wonderful multi-tasking and time management. Cindy may have “a quiet way about her,” but her focused spirit and positive attitude have served her well in her writing, local theater participation, student leadership roles. For example, she is President of the Student Council and of the Leo Club, as well as Editor-in-Chief / President of Yearbook.

Cindy is also involved in a new initiative at D-Y called Project Purple, dedicated to advocating against drugs and substance abuse through education, awareness, and positive decision-making for students as they navigate their choices and challenges. Cindy commented on how fast the last three years seemed to have unfolded. She expressed her thanks to all her teachers, Mr. Jenks and Ms D’Errico, her quality friends who “had her back,” and most of all, her parents.

GUEST SPEAKER: WAYNE HOHLER ON BACKYARD FARMING

Wayne Hohler demonstrated another facet of his wide-ranging assortment of skills and pursuits. Starting with brief references to the evolution (and almost disappearance) of the American Family Farm, and the corresponding growth of corporate farming, Wayne focused on the wide-spread community desire for something better in the farm-to-table procuring of fresh and healthy food and produce: the micro- or backyard farm.

Wayne and his family are members of a homesteader group of 4800 like-minded folks demonstrating successful backyard farming with chickens, quail, rabbits, and other denizens of animal- and vegetable husbandry - all located within his well-kept and well planned confines of their home of 1/3 acre, right in residential Captains Village.
