The Main Event

Janice Mathison introduced Derek Bartlett Founder and President of CAIPRS – Cape and Islands Paranormal Research Society which he founded in 2001. Questions started as early as his childhood, while hearing local legends and stories of New England ghosts and shipwrecks. Since forming CAIPRS he has not only found a dedicated team who seeks the same answers but has found more questions as to how and why paranormal events happen around us. Derek believes in a pragmatic, scientific approach to ghost hunting and uses both technical equipment and intensive historical research in his case work. CAIPRS, led by Derek is involved in cases that span from New England to New Orleans and beyond. He is a former US Marine and employs the concepts of both discipline and an intense theoretical approach in his work. A self described “skeptical believer” he is not out to debunk everyone else’s work as much as he is to prove his own findings. Both Derek and CAIPRS are based in West Barnstable, Mass. Email: dbartlett@caiprs.com When traveling to or through Cape Cod you should stop and check out some of the oldest cemeteries in America. Cape Cod is rich in history as well as ghost lore. When visiting cemeteries, they ask you to follow some of these guidelines. Never go visit a cemetery at night. Respect the deceased. Take out what you bring in. Respect property. The Marsh People: There are strange accounts of “people” who live on the marshes of Cape Cod. These beings are said to be human like creatures that have been seen in the middle of not one but many marshes along the Cape. Are these simply humans from long ago who survived living in remote areas around the marshes or could they be some sort of unknown creatures that dwell in the waters and along the banks of these wetlands? Stories have been told of ghosts in Barnstable Village, living in the Barnstable House, even living in the Olde Yarmouth Inn. Are you a believer or do you just laugh about it. Derek offers many different “Haunted” tours and experiences. Why not try one out.

Thank You

Dear Tammy,
 I am writing to you as my best contact at Rotary, and ask you to share this message with your fellows.
 Thank you so very much for honoring me with the Paul Harris Fellowship Award. I was so surprised at the time I was not able to put into words my gratitude in being acknowledged...and especially in front of your entire organization. In fact, I was not really sure what it meant.
 Now I understand from Jackie (and some research on Google) the meaning of Paul Harris and am humbled to be included by all of you in this outstanding group. Jackie and I have had a long commitment to what we call “corporate responsibility” and are proud of what Navionics has done...which anyway pales in comparison to the work of Rotary.
 I read there are 1,000,000 Paul Harris Fellows worldwide and as a result, $80 million is raised each year and is the so-called “backbone of annual support.” When I think of all the places I have visited where there is no water, no hygiene, no medicine, no education...I am now encouraged that an Organization such as Rotary really can and will make a difference. In comparison, Navionics Foundation is just a tiny drop in the ocean...but with a partner like Rotary, all the drops from all the clubs, all the Paul Harris Fellows and all their partners-together we can flood the world with good deeds and acts of kindness.
 Thank you again for honoring me with membership in this wonderful and inspiring Fellowship.
 Best regards,
 Giuseppe Carnevali
