

The disease of addiction thrives in the dark

Come see
Improbable Players

To help our community bring it into the light and talk about it Join the conversation

Thursday, May 24th, 2018 7:00pm

Marilyn Rodman Performing Arts Center

1 School Street, Foxboro, MA (Formerly The Orpheum Theatre)

Improbable Players will perform "End of the Line - How it starts," a short play followed by a talkback and Q&A. The play is based on true stories and is performed by actors in long-term recovery. Through education and reducing stigma, their mission is to stop addiction before it starts and help end the opioid epidemic. The show is appropriate for anyone 6th grade and up.

Presented by the SAFE Coalition, with sponsorship by Rotary Club of Foxboro and Infinity Family Care, PC

This event is FREE and open to the public.

Reserve your seat at: www.facebook.com/SAFECoalitionMA