NEW MEMBER PROFILES

The Internet helps us with a little background:

Martin L. Fishman, M.D. was raised in California, and finished his pre-medical studies at the University of California, Berkeley, where he met and married his future wife. Marty graduated cum laude in Medical Sciences, then in the top 10% of his medical school class at the University of California, San Francisco Medical Center. He finished a medical internship at Harbor General Hospital in Torrance, California, a major UCLA teaching hospital.

Dr. Fishman completed a residency in ophthalmology at Washington University Medical Center in St. Louis, Missouri. He then spent two years at the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Maryland, as a Clinical Fellow at the National Eye Institute, where he performed clinical and laboratory research.

Since beginning practice in Los Gatos in 1976, Dr. Fishman has served in a teaching position at Stanford University. He is now an Adjunct Clinical Professor of Ophthalmology there, Director of the Pathology Section of the Stanford Basic Science Course in Ophthalmology, and has been recognized as an Outstanding Clinical Faculty Teacher.

New Member Marty Fishman

Marty has also been active in leadership roles, and has served as Chief of the Medical Staff at Community Hospital of Los Gatos, President of the California Association of Ophthalmology, and is a Trustee of the California Medical Association. He has a Masters Degree in Public Administration in Health Care.

Dr. Fishman has two grown children, and enjoys photography, exercise, and gardening.

New Member Dick Conrad

Dick came to Los Gatos thirty years ago, his wife a VP at a software startup. They have four daughters—one in medicine in Dallas, another at Ford Research. Their son is a home-builder in Austin.

Conrad grew up in St. Louis, went to a Catholic boys school, edited the school yearbook as a senior, joined ROTC, and was in the Reserve for seven years — never called up. He went through the GE Technical Marketing Program, then spent seven years at Texas Instruments.

He then came here to Applied Materials, then to a small division of Honeywell that manufactured a product used in the Pong game. After a stretch with IBM he returned to California and retired at 62.

Dick enjoys reading to keep current in business and technology, cooking, gardening, and managing their investments. He and his wife are great Stanford fans.

See electronic page 5 for sister Rotary club meeting places/times. See page 6 & 7 for new member photos.

Joyce Cordi was born in Napa Valley. Her father came there as a refugee from Hitler's Germany, and some of his papers are in the Holocaust Museum in Washington D.C.

Joyce graduated from Cal Berkeley, and went to work at Intel as a business analyst. For a time she was Andy Groves' personal "head hunter".

Later she went into consulting, with Price Waterhouse and Gartner Group. She was involved with the merger of Compaq and Hewlett-Packard. When she was with Gartner she did lots of work with the Pentagon, and was very involved with the California Water Project. Cordi left in 2008 to run against Mike Honda. I guess she lost because Mike is still there.

Currently Joyce writes a blog "Re-Imagine America", and hosts a radio program "How to Help Shape Government " — Saturdays at noon on Radio 860.
