

Who's a
ROTARIAN?

He's a person
in your neighborhood.

“And in the end, the love you take is equal to the love you make.”

The Beatles' famous lyric is one that inspires Rotarian FRANK CARR to bring compassion and generosity to all that he does. As the coordinator, ten years running, of one of the most popular traditions in Haddonfield – Rotary's Summer Concerts on Kings Highway – and as the owner of Carr's Hardware, his family's business since 1974, the kindness he shares with others is genuine. “We are here for a short while, let's enjoy the ride and be good to ourselves and each other,” says Frank.

Love and good humor keep the Carr family closely connected to each other and to Haddonfield. Frank, his wife Lora and their sons Charlie and Grady, live in town. “I'm proud that my kids can call Haddonfield home. In ways academically, athletically and beyond, the bar is always being raised ... making all of our kids better to achieve more,” he says. “The historical, colonial feel to this town is also unique. If you close your eyes, you can almost see the King's soldiers marching through town.”

Frank has been an active Rotarian since 1994 and served as president of the Haddonfield club in 2005-06. He was inspired to join Rotary by the example of service set by his father who was president of the Gloucester City club while Frank was growing up. “Somewhere between home life and work life there has to be something meaningful – your service to the world.”

Ready to meet neighbors like Frank who care about making a difference in the world and know how to have fun doing it? Be our guest at a Rotary lunch meeting, any Wednesday at Tavistock Country Club.
