Veterans Workforce Development Program
Identifying, Equipping and Transforming Veterans into Gainfully Employed Citizens in the Civilian Workforce

BACKGROUND
Veterans in the United States are the most under-served community in the area of workforce development. While the focus of many Veteran Agencies at the federal, state and local level has been to provide good medical care and benefits, the process of assimilating them into the civilian workforce as self-sufficient, working professionals has been largely lacking. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), in 2010, young male veterans, ages 18 to 24, had an unemployment rate of 21.9 percent (significantly higher than the national average—nearly double the rate). Among the problems cited by veterans groups is that the skills a service member acquires in the military do not always transfer to the civilian world. What’s missing, they said, is often a system of certification that tells an employer that the veteran has the skills and knowledge to meet the job requirements. The absence of training opportunities continues to hamper the veterans in transitioning smoothly to the civilian workforce. Halcyon Solutions is taking the initiative to address this critical gap that exists in our society. By combining our technical expertise with training and resource development, our goal is to equip veterans with the necessary skills so they can become productive and successful IT professionals with Fortune 1000 companies.

PROGRAM BENEFITS
Halcyon’s Veterans Workforce Development Program will provide companies with the following benefits:

- Qualified and trained IT professionals that can take on the normal IT responsibilities in the company’s IT department
- Option to “try before you buy” allowing companies to verify that the resource is a good fit with the organization and with the position
- Access to disciplined, reliable and motivated individuals that can take on the most challenging assignments within the organization
- Opportunity to meet the company’s diversity and social objectives while giving an opportunity to veterans to pursue their dreams as productive citizens in the US workforce

We owe this to the veterans! Why? Because…..

“This nation will remain the land of the free only so long as it is the home of the brave.” - Elmer Davis

“We often take for granted the very things that most deserve our gratitude.” - Cynthia Ozick

“As we express our gratitude, we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words, but to live by them.” - John Fitzgerald Kennedy

"The willingness with which our young people are likely to serve in any war, no matter how justified, shall be directly proportional to how they perceive the Veterans of earlier wars were treated and appreciated by their nation." - George Washington

“A new program is taking former American soldiers and training them in the fight for clean energy. The Solar for Soldiers program, launched earlier this month, helps train and employ American veterans in clean energy installation.” Website of U.S. Senator Sherrod Brown (D-Ohio)

Recently, Microsoft launched the Elevate America Veterans Initiative to help our country's veterans and their spouses acquire the skills and resources that they need to be successful in today's workplace.

PROGRAM APPROACH

The Veterans Workforce Development Program is designed to help participants quickly learn the basic skills of software development and software quality assurance through classroom training, reference materials and hands-on workshops and lab exercises. The program will cover the following aspects:

- Provide basic skills in the area of software development life cycle to allow all participants to have a common terminology and understanding;
- Train on specific development and testing skills, including Software Testing Methodology, Automated Testing Tools and Test Script Development;
- Assistance in obtaining industry standard certification that will provide a testament to their skills and knowledge;
- Offer coaching in soft-skills allowing participants to combine their technical skills with excellent communication skills to become effective workers in a corporate environment;
- Ongoing support during the first 12 months of the assignments in the form of technical support, professional coaching and mentoring programs;
- Re-training opportunities that allow participants to continue to gain new skills and become key players on their projects.

YOUR COMMITMENT

Companies are invited to become part of this program by offering job opportunities to the veterans after they have graduated from the program. Companies will have the option to hire qualified and trained veterans on a contracting basis for a limited period of time and then offer them a permanent job if they meet the job requirements. Halcyon is willing to subsidize the rates significantly thereby reducing the financial investment made by the company during the trial period.

Specifically, as a benefactor of this program, we are requesting the following from you:

- Review your Corporate Hiring Plans and Diversity Goals to see if this program will fit into your permanent or contractor related hiring strategies;
- Identify a point of contact in your company who can provide your IT related hiring needs in terms of number of resources, types of resources and skills required;
- Collaborate on the development of the training program so as to customize the program for your hiring needs;
- Actively participate in the hiring of veterans trained by Halcyon;
- Provide ongoing support and feedback to the program by becoming a Program Champion.
