Program:

Liz Owens introduced Cheryl Smart director of Adult Support with the Delaware County Board of Developmental Disabilities (DCBDD). She gave an overview of the services which cover the lifespan of individuals from birth on. 75%-80%of the services are funded by levy dollars, federal and state funding.

The Agency provides support services across four developmental stages: Early Intervention, Family Support, Transitions Supports, and Adult Supports. The transition between each support stage is an important milestone in the development of each person. They mark a significant change in who is responsible to provide services and how services are delivered.

In each stage the services are coordinated and managed by a professional referred to as a Support Administrator, who is the single point of contact for the client or their family. Support Administrators help the client, their family, and their team to navigate available resources, service delivery and funding systems.

The Agency is in need of help from community businesses and social group agencies to provide community integration and employment for these individuals.

Pieces of Eight – Jim Hoovler had a chance to draw the white marble. Unfortunately, it did not see the light of day.

Members: Remember that you can give a donation to the Rotary Club or Foundation in honor of your birthday. You may designate which funds this donation goes to. Thank you John Tombarge for your birthday gift donation!
