Division Chief. He specializes in developing financial and performance solutions for nonprofit organizations and helping them build a sustainable social enterprise business model.

According to the CSED Website, The Center for Social Enterprise Development (CSED) was founded in June 2014 and received its 501(c)(3) designation in November 2014. The mission of the Center for Social Enterprise Development is to provide information, training, mentoring, and support to enable charitable organizations to develop new business activities that show strong promise of producing new sources of revenues to support and advance their charitable mission. CSED programs are open to all interested individuals and organizations who are dedicated to producing social impact from commercial activities primarily in the Central Ohio region.
