July:

June 9 – Club Assembly

June 2 – Rand Guebert introduced Andrea Romani, this year's Rotary Youth Exchange student, who presented us with a banner from his home district in Italy (and received one of ours in return). Illustrating his talk with power point photos, Andrea said school (Hayes) was "very different" from his school in Italy, that he was "really impressed" by the teachers at Hayes, particularly one who held a class on Sunday morning to help students prepare for a test: "That's how much they care about us." He played soccer, and enjoyed lacrosse, which was new to him.

Andrea went to a Columbus Crew game (he thanked Fran and Joe), went to the district conference where students exchanged pins from their own Rotary clubs, and visited New York, Washington, Boston, Gettysburg and Chicago during his stay. And he finished a "Thurmanator".

Andrea has one more year in high school in Italy and then hopes to go to college, perhaps to study math, physics or another science.

He was effusive in his thanks to his host families who, he said, made him feel at home, cared for, and one of the family. He said he was very happy he made the choice to come to Delaware and was impressed with our club.

Rand said that our next exchange student will be Francisca Mendez from Chile, who will have Barb Walters as her adviser.

The Invocation was given by George Alexander; Pledge of Allegiance was led by Ken Spicer.

Visiting Rotarians: Zach Price from Cap Square; Teri Morgan from Olentangy.

Guests – Bethany Moore, incoming Executive Director of Delaware Speech and Hearing; Linda Foreman; and Mary, Robert and John Homan.

Make-ups – Joe Evans and Fran Veverka at Sunbury-Galena.

Announcements

- President Brandon announced that Shelia Hiddleston has agreed to be the club second vice-president. After a motion and second to nominate her, Shelia was elected unanimously. Congratulations and thanks to Shelia!
- With Larry Garrett wielding the (imaginary) auction gavel, Fran and Joe's tickets to the final Columbus Crew game of the season were sold to Jim Hoovler for the winning bid of $150. The proceeds will go to Polio Plus. Joe gave a short summary of the state of polio worldwide, including that some cases are moving out to from Pakistan (where vaccination is prohibited) to five new countries, but he said that polio is endemic only in three previously identified countries.
- President Brandon read a thank-you letter to Rotary from scholarship winner Rebecca Penrod, who will be going to Ohio Wesleyan University, and a thank-you letter from the Delaware County District Library for the club's gifts of children's books.
- A volunteer is still badly needed to do the Anticipator for June.

Pieces of Eight: Deb Martin won Pieces of Eight but the white marble was off on vacation.
