LAST WEEK'S PROGRAM

Jeff Dillon and Ty Dannenbring

spoke about their efforts to (and their upcoming book) help people overcome the loneliness epidemic in our country and build community right where you live! Their new book will be titled Party in the Front and they are currently crowd-sourcing to gain funding to self publish.

Some of the statistics that they shared included:

- 57% of Americans know only some of their neighbors
- 17% of Americans know NONE of their neighbors
- Lacking social connections is as unhealthy as smoking 15 cigarettes a day!
