Inspiration

Chris White

Chris shared thoughtful remarks with historical examples and principles on the two-dimensional definition of morality. And, how this may be useful in explaining the absolute extremes of behavior in the current political climate. In making a moral choice, we may and should search for guidance in our religion or civic laws, or even the Four-Way Test, but we cannot escape the incessant whispers of our heart telling us to do what is right and good. So, let’s assume the best from each other!

ANNOUNCEMENTS & PRESENTATIONS

Paul Harris Award

Steve Gifford was presented with his first Paul Harris award.

Thank You! - from Mark,
Molly and Amelia Jones

Thank you so much for the generous supply of diapers, the monetary contribution, and the wonderful gifts. Every detail - from the delicious cake and food to the games and wishes for Amelia - made for a day we will always cherish.

Epic Day of Service

Jim Epstein and Brad Schilling shared a video about the Epic Day of Service planned for May 16.

Through the Epic Day of Service, Rotarians from around the world come together on this one day to take action in their community and turn service into impact. One of the goals of the day is to show the power of Rotary, expand our reach and boost our public image.

LAST WEEK’S PROGRAM

Chloe Odhiambo - Rotary Student Exchange Program

Chloe, the Club’s current exchange student, shared about herself and her experiences thus far. Chloe is from Nairobi, the capitol city of Kenya. She is attending Mountain View High School where she has achieved the Academic All State Frist Team award. Chloe participates in band and basketball. She has traveled to many locations during her time in the United States including the St. Louis arch. In the future, Chloe plans to possibly study Dentistry or Biomedical Engineering.
