Supporting Your Rotary Foundation

Carol Stark announced a board-approved quarterly increase in our dues (from $25 to $50) of the portion that is a donation to the RI Foundation. A member may opt out of this change, but everyone's generosity is appreciated.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Co-Pres Bob (Rotarian in Recovery): Bob Tello shared an update on a fellow Rotarian's health: Bob Eatman is back home recovering and doing fine after having a pacemaker installed. Get well, friend!

Co-Pres Diane
(New Members):
Diane inducted
Evan Hyatt and Ted Pearson.

Evan hopes to work with our Public Image and Inspiration committees, while Ted is looking forward to assisting the Rubber Duck Race fundraiser and the Literacy committee. Welcome guys!

(Recognition): Diane reminded us of last Saturday's newspaper article about our Education Awards program. Diane gave Dick Bradsby a special Rotary decal in recognition of his role in spearheading the Teacher awards portion of that program. Congratulations Dick!

Laura Armstrong (Special Donation): Laura gave us an update on the Alexander Mtn fire recovery at her non-profit, Heart J Center for Experiential Learning (at Sylvan Dale Ranch) after their $1 million loss. She was happy to report, however, that our club's donation (from a recent "Enforcer" session) will not only go toward their new Campground-Gathering Place project, but it gave a real morale boost to her staff at Heart J.

LAST WEEK'S PROGRAM

Bob Tello related the story of the origin of Rotary's Four-Way Test. It turns out this ethical framework was the brainchild of Herbert J. Taylor, a businessman who raised Club Aluminum Company to profitability from the brink of bankruptcy (1930s), and later became an RI president. Taylor believed his company's success was the result of practicing the test.
