PROGRAM

John Turnage introduced his brother Mark Turnage who specializes in cyber security. Mark had some suggestions to dealing with cyber security during Covid and working from home. Mark’s company specializes in security on the dark net and is called Darkowl. The company has seen a lot more scams and attacks as a result of Covid19. Due to people working from home there are now more targets for attackers and scammers to use. Unfortunately, there is less security on home systems versus business systems. One of the first scams that Darkowl saw was a vaccine for the Covid virus and they’ve seen iterations of this since then. Many other scams for masks, gloves, hand sanitizer, PPE and other illicit items. Hackers are taking advantage of reduced security on home internet access systems and conference call systems. If its too good to be true it’s not true and watch your passwords or use a password locker.
