PROGRAM

Some highlights of Connie Masson’s presentation:

- Masson took members inside the dangers and heroism of WWII airmen, through the pages of her own father’s diary; he was a B-17 (Flying Fortress) flyer.
- Only 21 years old, Robert Stanley Magee, Sergeant, U.S. Army Air Forces, flew 19 missions during just 4 months in the closing year of WWII (Jan-Apr 1945).
- The mission of U.S. 8th Air Force: destroy Germany’s ability to wage war, gain command of the European skies, and pave the way for Allied land invasion.
- The challenges included facing the onslaught of Flak (German anti-aircraft fire) and meeting the ominous goal of overpowering the German Luftwaffe.

The Buffet is Back!
Starting on June 1, we will once again have buffet style lunches. RSVPs via Evite no longer required.
