Hayden Lowry

Hayden spoke of how often we are missing the good things in our lives as we concentration of the parts we do not like. He recounted the numerous advantages we all enjoy living in this time and place and urged all to remember that our lives are much better than we often allow ourselves to notice.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

President Julie Marko (Club Updates):

Dave Mills & Ellie Benjamin (from the Larimer County United Way); Thanked the club for its donation to the Imagination Library that allowed the United Way to receive over $40,000 to provide books from the Dolly Parton foundation to children in the county under 6 years of age.

President Julie: made several announcements including 1) The Evening Group had a social at the Desk Chair on September 23, 2) There is no meeting on September 29, 3) There will be a Rotary After Hours at the home of Gail Daugherty at from 5 to 7 PM on September 29, 4) There was a leadership orientation training from 5:30 to 6:30 on September 22 (beer provided), and 5) Dwight Brummet still needs ideas for this year's Rotary Awards. Please provide him with your ideas.

Pat Williams: Reminded everyone that September 21 was International Peace Day, a goal that remains one of the central tenets of Rotary efforts. Working to promote this goal, the Peace Committee has installed a Peace Pole at Hamid Eslan's Black Steer and seeks others who would do the same. He also announced that the first Friendship Bench is done and he is seeking volunteers to serve as listeners.

LAST WEEK'S PROGRAM

Rachel-Jayne (Grover) introduced herself as an introvert, born in Australia but transplanted to the United States where she eventually became an advocate for getting more out of life. She spoke to the club about the Awakened School, explaining it is more than a learning community - it's a global ecosystem for visionaries and seekers committed to living with deep inner peace while creating meaningful impact. She advised all to relax into their message, centering themselves in their core to help convey our thoughts to others. She then invited Rotarians to experience her approach to living at the Casa Sagrada located in an historic church in Loveland where people can reconnect with themselves. She urged all to be: unshakeable, magnetic and be iconic.
