LAST WEEK'S PROGRAM

Erik Rock, the Technology Manager for Loveland Public Library, was joined by three colleagues to explain this wonderful program benefitting seniors, low income households, and even young people who have limited experience with technology but need basic digital skills nowadays to shop, obtain healthcare services, and simply participate in our modern society! Highlights included these: • Digital navigator is just a new term for a “computer tutor.” • Colorado funds the program from federal funding originating during the COVID years. • The workforce is AmeriCorps, a national service program funded by tax dollars. • Locally, the program has 12 members serving out of Larimer County libraries. They also serve at numerous residential sites in Loveland!
